Austria Petitions Big Four For Return of Its Freedom

THE ONE EAR WAS NO ACCIDENT. Mariann Remke of East St. Louis, Ill., points out the puzzling feature of this famous marble head of Abraham Lincoln—the missing ear, at Washington. Sightseers have wondered about it for the 46 years the work has been on display in the capitol rotunda, but Gutzon Borglum, the sculptor, wrote a committee of Congress in 1908 that he planned it that way to emphasize the fact that "Lincoln's face was so much more developed on the right side." Robert Lincoln called the head "the most extraordinarily good portrait of my father I have ever seen." Miss Remke is secretary to Rep. Melvin Price (D-Ill.)

U.S. Placing Emphasis on Robot Missile

Outlay Will Exceed $3 Billion on Program For Guided Weapons

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP)—The armed forces have received or are asking authority to buy more than three billion dollars worth of guided missiles, which they started procuring four years ago.

This is for actual procurement of missiles. It does not include other multimillion-dollar outlays for designing, developing and testing experimental gadgets—the research part of the program.

The figures, made available today in response to a reporter's questions, do not mean that the American arsenal now necessarily contains three billion dollars worth of missiles for the Air Force, Army and Navy.

Covers Back Orders

An undisclosed part of the total value is material still to be delivered on orders placed some months or even a year or more ago. And another portion, about 400 million dollars in requests for new spending authority, is contained in the proposed budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

But it is a measure of the effort being devoted to producing robot weapons to augment and eventually supplant some of the conventional weapons of the three services. It is indicative, too, of the emergence of controllable missiles from the drawing boards and laboratories to production lines.

The Air Force has had the largest part of the funds authorized for missile contracts, about $1,268,000,000. It is giving major attention to medium and long range, surface-to-surface missiles. The Matador missile, with a range understood to be about 500 miles, has been in production for more than a year. A second missile, the Snark, with a range substantially greater, is approaching production stage.

Army Share Near Billion

The Army's share is close to that of the Air Force—about a billion dollars. Present major procurement by the Army is going to Nike antiaircraft guided missiles, the surface-to-surface Corporal and another, presumably semiguided heavy field artillery rocket designated as the Honest John. The Nike has been in mass production for more than a year.

The Navy has a share of 742 million dollars in the missile procurement program. It has in production several missiles including the Regulus, a surface-to-surface type to be used in firing from ships or from submarines. Also included are two antiaircraft missiles for defense of ships against enemy planes—the Terrier and Sparrow.

Flanders Calls for All-Out Ike Support

Speaker Describes Him as Greatest Since Lincoln

By EVELYN KRISTOFF

Terming the past year an "experience in the ending of corruption," Sen. Ralph E. Flanders of Vermont called for an all-out support of Marion County Republicans and independents for "the greatest President since Lincoln."

The Republican senator from Vermont asked for this cooperation as he addressed a Lincoln Day dinner crowd of over 200 persons assembled Thursday night in the YMCA for the annual Republican event.

A. L. WATT, president of the Marion County Republican Club, acted as master of ceremonies for the dinner. Rev W. A. Hough, pastor of the Oak Knoll Baptist Mission, pronounced invocation and benediction.

Personal representatives of Republican state officials who were present and introduced included Lee Shilling, from the office of State Auditor James Rhodes, F. Glenn Sparks from the office of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown; Howard White from the office of State Treasurer Roger W. Tracy; and Hugh Kirkwood and Hugh Wait, former Marion Countians, representing Attorney General C. William O'Neill.

Most of the state officials had previously accepted invitations to attend the Cincinnati Lincoln Day dinner, their representatives said

ALSO INTRODUCED were Mrs. Martha Wheatcraft of Galion and Robert Evans of Findlay, 8th district central committeewoman and committeeman; Frederick C. Smith, former congressman and Kenneth Robinson, Marion County's representative to the Ohio Legislature.

Republican county officials running for re-election this fall, Commissioner Luther Mitchell, Auditor Maurice Clements, and Probate Judge E. J. Ruzzo, also were introduced.

Watt then turned the meeting over to Julian Walker, president of Fairfield Engineering Co., who introduced Sen. Flanders.

BEFORE HE LEFT Washington Wednesday, Sen. Flanders told the

Figl Appeals To Big 4, Asks Independence

Easing of 'Inequitable' Restrictions Sought By Foreign Minister

BERLIN (AP)—Austria appealed to the Big Four today to restore its independence without further delay and at the same time asked for an easing of "harsh and inequitable" economic concessions to Russia.

The appeal was laid before the Berlin conference by Austrian Foreign Minister Leopold Figl. As the ministers took up the Austrian question, Russia's V. M. Molotov indicated he had a new proposal to make on the subject. Details were not immediately available.

Follows Secret Meeting

Figl made his appearance at a regular session late in the afternoon which followed a secret meeting on Asiatic questions.

The mild - mannered Austrian made an impassioned plea to restore his nation's sovereignty and deliver its seven million people from occupation for the first time since 1938. He asked that the economic terms of the draft treaty be revised "in a sympathetic and generous spirit."

These terms would benefit Russia as the treaty now stands. They provide for a payment of 150 million dollars over a six-year period by Austria for the redemption of factories in the Soviet occupation zone which were seized as German assets.

Would Give Oil to Soviets

They would also give Russia the lion's share of Austrian oil production for a period of 25 to 30 years. Figl argued that the disposal of the country's mineral resources is "an inalienable right for every free people."

There was strong indication that if Molotov would drop his insistence on a Big Five parley including Red China, U. S. Secretary of State Dulles would be willing to reverse the previous American position that Russia should attend the proposed Korean political conference only as a partner of Red China and North Korea rather than as a non-belligerent.

Following today's secret session, the conference secretariat released only this information:

"The ministers continued their discussion on Item 1 (Russia's Big Five conference proposal) of the agenda and their restricted session at the Allied Control Authority Bldg. ended at 1:15 p.m."

Major Issue

The question of Russia's role in a Korean conference has been a sore one for a long time. The Communists insist Russia be included as a neutral.

Secretary of State Dulles was quoted by a Western source as proposing that the Big Four call a conference on Korea with Red China as a participant along with

Marion Man Is Critically Hurt In Auto Mishap

Richard Garceau, 24, And Former Resident Injured in Columbus

A Marion man and a former resident are in "critical condition" in University Hospital in Columbus following a traffic accident in downtown Columbus early this morning.

The injured are Richard Garceau 24, of 567 Vernon Heights Blvd. and George Smith, 25, of 12 E. 17th Ave., Columbus, formerly of Marion.

Garceau, a salesman for the Danner Buick Co. here, suffered a compound fracture of the skull, fracture of the left forearm, laceration of the back and head. He is the more seriously injured of the pair.

Smith sustained a laceration on the right side of his head, abrasions on the side of his face, a fractured skull, fractured ribs and an injury to his left arm.

The mishap occurred at 2:05 a.m. today at E. 4th Ave. and N. 4th St. The auto carrying Garceau and Smith and one driven by John Roger Sherman 22, of 2661 Iuka Ave., Columbus, collided there. Sherman and a passenger in his car, Walter Hines, 23, of 87 Arcadia Ave., were also taken to the hospital for treatment of minor injuries and released.

According to Columbus police the car in which Garceau and Smith were riding failed to observe a stop sign at the intersection. Both were unconscious and police are investigating to determine who was the driver of the vehicle.

Garceau's car was badly damaged, Columbus police reported.

Man Indicted On Charge of Attacking Girl

Walker Faces Trial; No Finding Returned In Manslaughter Case

An indictment was returned by the Marion County grand jury this morning against Harold D. Walker, 26, of 376 Nye St., charging him with criminally assaulting an eight-year-old girl.

In three other cases considered by the jury this morning, no indictment was returned against James M. Thompson, 21, of 433 Lee St., who was charged with manslaughter, while indictments of fraud against Ted Lacy and embezzlement against Robert L. Russell were returned.

In considering the four cases, jurors heard testimony from 14 witnesses.

Walker entered a plea of not guilty last week in Municipal Court to the assault charge. Bond of $5,000 was set by Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen and Walker has been in the county jail since that time.

He was arrested Feb. 1 and held for investigation after Marion police were informed by city hospital that the girl was treated there. At first, police were told she was injured in a fall at her home. Upon her return to the hospital the next day in critical condition, police were again called into the case.

At the time of his arrest, Walker was free on a $1,000 bond from Common Pleas Court pending the start of a one to seven year term in the Mansfield Reformatory on conviction of grand larceny. A month's delay was granted Walker by Judge Paul D. Smith in order for Walker to put his affairs in order.

Group Unveils Zoning Rules For Township

Commission Proposals Explained at Meeting; One Member Objects

A proposed ordinance to set up zoning regulations in Marion Township was discussed last night at a public meeting in the Marion YMCA.

The ordinance, to provide for orderly growth of the city's suburbs, sets up regulations for subdividing land into residental, industrial and commercial zones. It was drawn up by a township zoning commission headed by Dr. John W. Bull.

One member of the commission, Ferdinand Lawrence, disapproved of the regulations saying they hindered constitutional rights. The other members, Dr. Bull, Carl Secrest, Alpheus Gruber and Howard Click, favored the ordinance.

Lawrence said the ordinance will put all Marion township property under an administrative body with power to enforce its decisions. The zoning commission can decide how township people can use their property, he said.

Lawrence called the ordinance another unnecessary regulation on top of state and federal laws. Marion township has done all right without zoning regulations until now, he said.

Proposal for New Report Cards Draws Opposition

Parental opposition to the Marion public schools' proposal for more informative report cards has developed, Superintendent of Schools L. L. Dickey said yesterday.

Under consideration for two years, a plan to give parents a more comprehensive account of their child's progress was proposed, on a trial basis, at Oakland School.

THE PLAN WAS approved by almost 100 per cent of the parents of first and second graders, Dickey said. However, opposition has arisen with third grade parents and the split is 50-50 in that grade.

A rash of magazine articles criticizing school influence on children has caused the opposition, Dickey said. There were five such articles in magazines last month, he said.

"Parents needn't be concerned because if anything is done, it will be done by the people and sanctioned by the board of education," Dickey said.

THE PLAN IS JUST in the formative stage now and is to be tried at Olney School next if parents approve.

"We aren't sure whether the people want any change," Dickey said. "We're just trying to find out. There's much more information to give parents than one letter grade placed on a card," he said.

Details of the more comprehensive grading system haven't been worked out. Dickey hopes to get parents and teachers together to formulate a satisfactory card.

Generally, the plan calls for two new areas of grading besides simple A, B, C, D and F marks: (1) students' mental, social and personal growth and (2) more detailed information on reading, language, writing and other skills.

Herbert Moves For Mistrial in Mansfield Case

Jury in Sternbaum Trial Excused While His Motion Is Debated

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Defense Atty. Paul M. Herbert today moved for a mistrial when a detective testified supermarket executive Max Sternbaum was asked to submit voluntarily to a lie detector test "for the purpose of elimination."

Herbert's request was overruled and the jury excused while the question was debated by attorneys.

Detective Testifies

Principal witness in Sternbaum's first degree murder trial this morning was Detective F. Bruce Friday who said Sternbaum voluntarily made and signed a statement five days after the burned body of his attractive wife was found in Sternbaum's Supermarket offices Dec. 5, 1952.

The statement accepted by the court, said he was waiting for his wife, Leah, 31, to pick him up about midnight at the supermarket office. He was sitting at his desk, the statement continues, when a loud voice ordered, "Don't turn!"

The statement continues:

"What do you want?" Sternbaum asked.

"Give me your money!" the voice replied.

Hands Over Wallet

He handed the wallet over his shoulder without looking and then handed over his watch in the same manner when another voice said, "Some one is coming." He turned briefly to look and was struck on the head.

The statement also said he awoke from the blow to find the supermarket office on fire and crawled to safety, passing what he thought was his wife lying in another room. Outside, the statement continues, he called for help to a boy passing on a bicycle and then blacked out again.

Detective Friday said Sternbaum at later visits to the detective office voluntarily allowed pictures to be taken of his head wound, repeated orally the same statement he had signed, and once admitted he had heard town gossip accusing him of killing his wife.

Friday also testified Sternbaum had agreed with the detective when Friday once said a robbery motive in the slaying was out.

According to the detective, Sternbaum agreed, saying it seemed "logical" to omit the robbery angle. Friday also said Sternbaum said he had no known enemies.

Herbert asked Friday if there had been any discussion of spon-

Gordon Quits As CCC Head

New Yorker Is Named Successor by Benson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today announced the resignation of Howard H. Gordon as administrator of the department's Commodity Stabilization Service—big crop control and price support agency—and the appointment of James A. McConnell, New York state farm leader, as his successor.

Gordon also resigned as president of the Commodity Credit Corp., the department's 6¾ billion dollar banking agency for financing price support operations. Department officials said McConnell would not be named president of the CCC. They said no successor for this post had been picked yet.

Gordon, a native of North Carolina, will return to his old post as assistant manager of the Southern States Farm Cooperative at Richmond, Va. He was brought into the department last year along with Benson's original top appointments.

The announcement made Gordon the ninth to step out, or give notice of plans to do so, among the top-ranking officials Benson brought into the department when he took over a year ago.

Woman Killed In Auto Crash Near Delaware

DELAWARE — A 55 - year - old Delaware woman, who was soliciting funds for the county polio campaign, was killed Thursday when her car went out of control on U. S. Route 42 and crashed into an oncoming semi-trailer truck.

Dead is Mrs. Ferne Kirchner, a 55-year-old widow of near Delaware. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Jane M. Case Hospital here.

The accident occurred on Route 42, about seven miles southwest of Delaware near Bellpoint, at 3 p.m. Investigating state highway patrolmen said Mrs. Kirchner apparently was making a right turn off Route 257 onto the U. S. highway when she lost control of the vehicle. The car skidded on the right berm and then shot across the highway into the left lane and the path of the approaching truck. Impact of the collision sent the Kirchner car over a steep embankment on the left side of the highway where the woman was pinned. The car was demolished.

Driver of the truck owned by the Cal-Lee Storage and Moving Co. of Cleveland, was Richard Weldon, 20, of Vermilion-on-the-Lake. Also riding in the truck was Gerald Halla-

Blames State Department

Rep. Rooney Says Story On Firings Slipped Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Rooney (D-NY) said today "someone in the department must have leaked the story" about the number of State Department security dismissals effected under the Eisenhower administration.

Newspaper accounts published Wednesday said that in secret testimony before a House Appropriations subcommittee R. W. Scott McLeod, State Department security administrator, had said that of 534 security dismissals, just 11 could be attributed to reasons of questionable loyalty. The first published version of this purported testimony gave no indication of its source. Later versions were attributed to House members who asked not to be named.

These House members also reported that Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, testifying at the same time, told them no active Communists had been found in the department. He has not commented on these reports.

McLeod, now on a Republican-sponsored speaking tour, described the figures attributed to him as inaccurate but gave no others.

"I think Mr. McLeod should be back in Washington looking into his own office," said Rooney, a member of the subcommittee. "Someone in the department must have leaked the story. The exact facts in the matter will appear when the hearings in question and answer form are formally made public by the committee. They will speak for themselves."

A State Department spokesman, told of Rooney's comments, said he had no knowledge of any

Aid to Pakistan Approved Over Indian Protest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Diplomatic officials said today the United States has decided to give substantial military aid to Pakistan regardless of India's angry protests.

An American military survey mission, they said, will go to Pakistan to look over its armed forces and determine the amount and type of military equipment needed.

An announcement of the decision probably will be delayed until after Pakistan and Turkey sign a broad defense, economic and cultural agreement, these sources said.

The two countries are reported to be negotiating the pact secretly, with U.S. encouragement. The agreement is expected to be announced formally within a matter of days. Pakistan officials are said to be eager to conclude it before next Tuesday's important provincial elections, hoping an announcement would help Premier's Ali's party.

Any American move to arm Pakistan would be certain to provoke bitter objections from India's Prime Minister Nehru. He has been mobilizing Indian public opinion against any such American-Pakistan military tieup on the ground it would upset peace in Asia.

Top American State and Defense department leaders, after carefully weighing Nehru's views, are reported to have decided to go ahead with military aid to Pakistan. They are represented as concluding that any backing down by the United States now would reinforce India's position in Asia as a potential leader of a bloc of countries neutral in the contest between the Communist bloc and the free world.

Nixon Advises Moderation in Speechmaking

Avoid 'Indiscriminate' Attacks on Opposition, Republicans Cautioned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon has advised fellow Republicans to avoid "indiscriminate" attacks on the opposition on the issue of communism, while accusing the Democrats of losing at the conference table victories won in war.

Whether by coincidence or in line with President Eisenhower's counsel to shun extreme partisanship, a number of GOP senators seemed to take a more moderate tone as the Lincoln Day speechmaking reached its peak volume on this anniversary of the Civil War President's birth.

Accusations Still Plentiful

There were still plenty of accusations that past Democratic administrations had coddled Communists, or been outsmarted by them.

Nixon himself, in a speech last night at New Haven, Conn., paid tribute to the way in which he said Secretary of State Dulles "has stood up to the Communists at the conference table in Berlin," and he added:

"The day is past when our diplomats lose at the conference table the victories which our fighting men win on the battlefields."

In counseling Republicans against indiscriminate attacks, Nixon said: "We must remember that millions of Democrats were just as fed up with Trumanism as we were in 1852."

Eisenhower told a Wednesday news conference the times are too serious for extreme partisanship. He said he would advise his official family against such tactics, and assumed the GOP National Committee would follow the same course. But he said he did not see how he could tone down others.

'20 Years of Treason'

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), who had said he could not "whitewash" what he calls "20 years of treason" under Democratic administrations to help win support for parts of Eisenhower's program, returned to his oft-voiced plea for a halt of trade with Red China.

In a speech at Dallas, Tex., last night McCarthy said "I know I don't agree with our administration on trade with Red China, but that doesn't mean I don't support that administration."

As for Eisenhower's plea to avoid extreme partisan attacks, McCarthy said "I think he is correct in that." He had said earlier he would not change tactics because he was reciting only the facts.

McCarthy also said there is no reason the two major parties should not work together to make all the world free. He said he has not been denouncing "the opposite party" but only "its leadership of the last 20 years."

The administration has opposed McCarthy's calls for U.S. action against friendly nations which carry on limited trade with Communist China, arguing that Washington should not dictate to its allies and that some trade is beneficial to the West.

INDICTED FOR MURDER

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) — The Scioto County grand jury has indicted James E. Vaughters, 18, of Wheelersburg, on charges of first degree murder in the shooting of Luther Cunningham, 45-year-old Wheelersburg pool parlor operator last Saturday. Vaughters, a shoe factory employe, reportedly told police he shot Cunningham accidentally while showing him a rifle he wanted to sell him.

Reminder to Ohio Voters

New 'Red Letter' Election Dates Released by Brown

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today reminded calendar markers of some new "red letter" election dates.

He said they would be of particular interest to disabled voters and those planning to be away from home on primary election day, May 4.

Brown prescribed new forms for ballot applications and instructions for using them. The forms went out this week to all 88 county election boards.

Brown said the dates to mark are:

March 5—First day for civilians outside the continental limits of the United States, such as wives of servicemen, to apply for absent voters ballots.

April 4—First day for absent and disabled voters within the United States to apply for ballots.

April 29—Last day for "absent or disabled" civilians to apply. The deadline is 4 p.m.

May 1—Last day for members of the armed services to apply for ballots. Their deadline is 12 noon.

Military service personnel have been eligible to apply for ballots since Jan. 1 and Brown reported some requests already received.

The secretary of state said Ohioans who will be more than 10 miles from their polling place and outside their home county on election day are eligible for absent voter ballots.

Those who are unable to get to the polls on election day because of their physical condition can obtain disabled voter ballots.

Civilians must return voted ballots to election boards by 12 noon of April 30 to have them count. Military service personnel have until noon of election day.

Under new laws effective Jan. 1, civilians outside the U.S. get 60 days, instead of the usual 30 before elections, to apply for absent voter ballots.

Brown said civilians must apply for ballots on forms furnished by election boards. Upon receipt of filled out applications, boards will mail out ballots to be voted and returned in accompanying "identification" envelopes.

The oath printed on the envelopes for voters has been changed as a safeguard against possible fraud, Brown reported.

Voters formerly swore that their ballots were marked in the presence of a notary public with no one else present.

They now must swear that their ballots contained no marks when received and that they, themselves, marked the ballots in the presence of no one and sealed them in the envelopes.

A notary administering the oath must then certify that the ballots were sealed in the envelope when it was given to him.

Oh yes, one more thing.

Applicants for primary ballots must designate their party affiliation.

Lincoln Day

assembled Marion Countians, he received from the White House the message that "the President wanted me to convey to you his good wishes for a good meeting and a successful election this fall."

Praising the Republican Party and the leadership "of that greatest of all Republicans, Abraham Lincoln," Sen. Flanders expressed the belief that "our country would still be divided in two, and hostile peoples and ideals would perhaps face each other across an indefensible border" had it not been for the party.

Tracing the history of the Republican Party over the past hundred years, Sen. Flanders declared that the party had "endured through sun and storm," and now "we have come through into a new world with new problems."

"CAN WE MATCH our wisdom and devotion with that of the founders of our party?" the Senator asked.

"We have come to this Republican administration through years of debt, corruption, and the steady growth of big government which distrust local political administration," Sen. Flanders began in answering his question.

He continued to say that he believes "we face these accumulated errors of the years with what it needs to cure them."

First among the assets that the party possesses today, the Senator told the assembled group, is that "we have a President who is not afraid to pray in public. Eisenhower knows that the fears of the people of our country and of the world can only be taken away by dependence on spiritual powers and the guidance of God. What a blessing that our leader depends so humbly on those powers and that wisdom."

REFERRING TO the past year's experience as an ending of corruption, Sen. Fanders admitted that "no party is immune to scandal or corruption."

He went on to say that "we admit the Republican Party has had its scandals." But he compared this with "the Truman Administration which protected and covered up many of these scandals."

Comparing the Republican attitude under Coolidge, for instance, Sen. Flanders asked his listeners to "compare this attitude with a President who refused to cooperate with Congress in exposing Communist infiltration: who called Congressional investigations a "red herring" and termed other investigations as "asinine." Compare this attitude with a President who, after receiving FBI reports on Communists in key places in his Administration, permitted many of them to resign, some with letters of commendation and who even promoted many of them after he had seen these reports."

THE SENATOR'S praise for John Williams, senator from Delaware, whom he described as "a one-man investigating committee," drew an affirmative round of applause from the audience.

This man, Sen. Flanders said, has the proven ability to "put his finger on" corruption in government. Most persons whom Sen. Williams has brought to light as transacting shady business have either "resigned, been fired, became sick, went to jail, or committed suicide," Sen. Flanders reported.

Pointing to efforts of the Eisenhower Administration to cut taxes, the Lincoln Day speaker said that "our administration has demonstrated its willingness and its ability to end inflation and move steadily toward a balanced budget."

Speaking of local and state candidates for office, Sen. Flanders told his audience that "of course you will return Congressman Jackson E. Betts for his third term in the House." Referring to the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, Sen. Flanders said that "no one can replace Taft," but "you can elect a Republican who can give strong support" to the party.

SEN. FLANDERS revealed last night he was not always "sold" on Eisenhower.

"All through the year 1953 I felt a little let down in this matter of leadership," he said. "As the months went by, I began to wonder whether the leader of the Normandy landing, of the rescue of France, of the invasion of Germany, and the defeat of the Nazi war machine could carry that peerless leadership through into civil life, into economic, social and political problems.

"I need have had no fear.

"The secret was out when President Eisenhower delivered his State of the Union message on January 7th of this year. I have heard many of these annual messages, I have read many more of them. But never have I listened to or read one which systematically and positively covered the whole area of national policy.

"NO ITEM was more courageous than his approach to the matter of farm price support—a question of deep importance to producers and consumers alike. He recognized that we cannot continue to pile up surpluses which have been stimulated by support prices but which cannot be sold at those prices. No one out of the halls of Congress can realize the political forces which support this impossibility.

"The President believes, and I believe, that we cannot let the farmer fall again into the pit which opened before him in the 1930's. But he also believes that there is a wisdom and a patriotism in the American farmer which will not be satisfied by short-range solutions."

In regard to the proposals for meeting a recession, Sen. Flanders reported that "the Northern Democrats were jubilant over what appeared to be a picking up of New Deal policy all over again."

However, on this point the President "set the record straight" at a recent press conference, the Senator reported.

"He told the press," Sen. Flanders related, "that when it comes to people, he is a liberal. When it comes to business, he is a conservative."

IN FLANDER'S OPINION, "this statement deserves to stand alongside his declaration of dependence on Divine guidance."

He left Washington Wednesday evening, and will go to Columbus Friday where he is scheduled to address the Franklin County Republican Lincoln Day dinner.

From there he is planning to return to Washington.

His train to Marion was delayed over two hours. Originally scheduled to arrive in Marion at 2:15, the train experienced re-routing difficulties in eastern Ohio due to a train derailment the previous day, and did not pull in Union Depot until after 4:30 p.m.

At the station he was greeted by Ralph Carhart, chairman of the Marion County Republican Executive Committee, and Marion Hinklin, Marion County treasurer and former executive committee chairman.

1,800 Students To Visit OWU

High School Music Festival Scheduled

The population of the Ohio Wesleyan University campus in Delaware will be almost doubled Saturday when about 1,800 musicians from 130 central Ohio high schools attend the annual High School Music Festival.

Nine Harding High students will attend. They are: Linda Schwab, Sara Meister, Ted Pollock, Phil Wendell, Marilyn Porter, Phyllis Corbin, Janet Roberts, Julia Gorman, and Beverly Gettys. Homer Huffman, director of the band and orchestra, and George Lane, assistant band director, will accompany the students.

Climax of the day-long program will be a concert at 7:30 p.m. in Gray Chapel. The concert is open to the public but because the young participants will more than fill Gray Chapel, the audience will have to be seated in the Chapel Annex.

Sponsored by the Ohio Wesleyan Department of Music, the festival is an annual occasion bringing together the best musicians of all high schools within a 75-mile radius of Delaware. The participants are selected by the high school music supervisors.

Members of the OWU music faculty will conduct the five organizations which will take part in the concert. Profs. Charles Thompson and Willis R. Olson will lead the two 125-piece bands, and Prof. Romine Hamilton will conduct the 100-member orchestra.

Prof. Rexford Keller and Prof. Robert Bowlus each will conduct a 710-member chorus. The concert program will end with the choruses combining to form a 1,450-member group.

han, 35, of Cleveland, a helper. Neither of the men was injured. The front end of the truck was damaged.

The body was taken to the Robinson - Hanrahan Funeral Home here.

Survivors include a son, Harold Jr., 16, a junior at Willis High School here; and a stepson, Thomas, of near Marysville.

Early Thursday morning, traffic on U. S. Route 23, north of Delaware, was blocked for nearly five hours when two trailer trucks collided and one of them caught fire.

The mishap occurred about midnight Wednesday, a mile and a half south of Norton, and the wreckage was not cleared away until about 4:30 a.m. Thursday.

Driver of one truck was Kenneth Taylor, 24, of Lansing, Mich., who was driving north and went over the center line, according to state patrolmen from the Delaware post. Heading south was a truck outfit driven by Carl Zebe, 53, of Cleveland. Zebe attempted to avoid the collision by driving onto the right berm, but the trucks collided in the southbound lane. Taylor drove north a few yards when his gas tanks caught fire and the burning truck blocked the highway. Zebe's truck jackknifed into a ditch on the west side of the road and hit a telephone pole.

Fire departments from Waldo and Stratford were called. Taylor's truck burned completely and Taylor suffered first degree burns. Zebe was uninjured.

Marion Man

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Garceau, were in Columbus today where their son underwent surgery this morning. Although listed in critical condition, both youths were expected to recover.

Officials at the Danner Buick Co. here said Garceau was visiting Smith, a former resident of Marion and student at Ohio State University, in Columbus yesterday. Smith's father, George Smith, is a retired Marion grocer.

Grand Jury

The manslaughter charge against Thompson was filed following the death Monday of Mrs. Goldie Baker, 46, of 416½ Silver St. struck by Thompson's car at Davids St. and Woodrow Ave. Saturday night.

Mrs. Baker and Martin Rice, 46, of Silver St., were crossing Davids St. and Thompson was driving north on Davids after making a left turn from Bellefontaine Ave. Rice sustained only minor injuries.

Thompson told police he had been blinded by headlights of approaching automobiles and had not seen the pedestrians in time to avoid hitting them.

TRUCK DRIVER CITED

Only one traffic arrest during the last 24 hours was reported today by Marion police. Walter Hitchcock, 32, of near Marion was charged with having no turn signals on his truck when stopped at 1:21 p.m. Thursday. He was cited to appear in Municipal Court Feb. 18.

Amateur Radio Operator Gives Talk to Kiwanis

George Schwab, Marion "ham" radio operator, related his experiences to members of the Kiwanis Club at their weekly meeting yesterday in Hotel Harding. Subject of his talk was "Amateur or Ham."

Schwab told the group that his hobby was an intriguing way to communicate with people in all four corners of the world. There are 250,000 radio hams in the world, all of whom are duly authorized.

Schwab started his hobby at the age of 15 while a sophomore in high school and that he was amazed at its simplicity.

He told the audience it took him nearly a year to learn the international Morse code after which he secured his temporary license to send and receive. He described his early equipment and experiences in the work.

Schwab told the members he at one time was in contact with Sidney, Australia, and talked to Admiral Byrd at his base on the South Pole. In 1935 he began building his own equipment, after which he became interested in improving his operating techniques.

Through his work, Schwab told the audience, he has created many friends and has had many visitors at his home who at one time had talked to him by radio. He told the Kiwanis members there were from 25 to 30 amateur operators in Marion and that ham operators were very well organized in case of disaster or emergency.

Guests were Emmett Hodges, L. C. Gaylor, L. M. Hopkins of Columbus and A. E. Wafer of Akron. Junior Kiwanians there were Ted Pollock and Larry Geissler, both of Harding High School, and Jerry Ballenger, and David Kraft, both of St. Mary.

Zoning

Association, Erie Railroad representatives and citizens discussed details of the regulations. Sanitation, lot sizes and expansion limits were talked over. Recommendations for improving the ordinance will be made at the zoning commission's next meeting, March 11.

Intent of the ordinance is to maintain the character of a neighborhood. Regulations cover erection of buildings, advertising uses and parking and loading. Rules are set down covering parking and loading space at grocery and department stores, restaurants, theaters, tourist camps and other commercial and industrial establishments.

Procedure is set up for approval of land subdivision. Subdivision plans must be submitted to the township zoning commission which will approve them or make suggestions for improving them.

Arrangement, width, extent, grade and location of streets are covered in the ordinance. Proposed streets shall conform to the general community plan and shall be considered in relation to public safety, use of land, and existing streets, the ordinance says.

The ordinance also covers minor streets, alleys and street right of ways.

Block and lot dimensions are outlined and the ordinance contains regulations for sewage outlets on residential lots. Provisions for easements also are made.

The ordinance sets up the procedure for submitting subdivision information, such as location and sketch maps and topographical data. A hardship clause is included which may be used to ease regulations in the public interest.

The ordinance will be submitted to the Marion Township trustees and they will hold a public hearing on it. It will then be placed before voters for approval. It is hoped the ordinance can be voted on at the May election, Dr. Bull said.

Rural zoning was first taken under study by a subcommittee of the Chamber of Commerce civic affairs committee. Marion Township commissioners appointed the present zoning commission.

Quail Shooting Slated for Ike

President Schedules Weekend in Georiga

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower flies to southern Georgia today to try his luck at quail shooting at the vacation estate of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

The President's private plane, the Columbine, is scheduled to take off from National Airport on the weekend trip shortly after Eisenhower takes part in Abraham Lincoln birthday anniversary ceremonies at the Lincoln Memorial.

Humphrey's pine farm, known as Milestone, is located near Thomasville, Ga., which in turn is about 20 miles from Tallahassee, Fla.

It is about a three-hour flight from Washington to the Thomasville area. Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington Sunday afternoon.

Listed to accompany Eisenhower were Humphrey; Cliff Roberts of New York, a retired investment banker and board chairman of the August, Ga., National Golf Club, and James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Group Organized By Cattle Feeders

Thirty-five cattle feeders from Marion and adjoining counties met at the Marion County courthouse last night to form a Marion County unit of the State Cattle Feeders Association.

Marion and Delaware Counties had been organized as a bi-county unit for the past two years.

Dwight Heckathorn of Grand Township was chosen chairman, Don Foos of Prospect as secretary-treasurer and Ed Riester, Pleasant Township, was selected delegate to the state association. H. H. Beringer of Waldo was named alternate.

It was decided to hold a cattle feeders tour March 12.

Two Trucks Damaged In Accident on Route 23

One minor traffic accident was reported today by the Marion post of the state highway patrol.

Marion police reported no accidents.

At 7 a.m. yesterday, trucks driven by Carl F. Rengert, 21, of near Waldo and William A. Ross, 72, of near Upper Sandusky, sideswiped each other on Route 23, south of Marion. Rengert suffered a bruised left knee. Both vehicles sustained moderate damage and were towed to Marion garages.

Big 4

North Korea, South Korea and other belligerents wishing to attend.

If this version is correct, it would amount to some change in the American position on the projected Korean political conference. Heretofore the United States has insisted that conference should be two-sided. The North Koreans and their associates, including Russia, would be on one side. On the other side would be the South Koreans and their 16 co-belligerents from the United Nations. This would group Russia with those labeled by the U.N. as aggressors.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was reported to have objected to such a non-neutral status for Russia. Further in his campaign to force the West to accept Red China as an equal partner in arranging world affairs, he was said to have asked whether she would be one of the powers convening the conference or just one of those to be invited, such as Australia and the Philippines.

The answer could not be given at once. A Western informant commented that a voice for Peiping in convening the conference would give Molotov a large part of the victory he has doggedly sought —recognition of Red China as a great power.

New Cards

Columbus public schools have adopted this type card. To show the type card proposed for Marion, here are a few examples from the Columbus progress report for grades four, five and six.

—:—

READING IS BROKEN down into "reads with understanding," "reads well to others," "attacks new words independently," "shows interest in extra reading." Each breakdown is graded either outstanding, good, satisfactory, effort shown or failing.

The same breakdowns are used for language, writing, spelling, social studies, arithmetic and fine arts.

Personal and social traits also are graded in areas such as the following: plans work well, completes work begun, uses free time to good advantage, takes pride in personal cleanliness, and others.

FIRST GRADE teachers in the Pearl St. School now are using a "development" report in addition to a report card and parent reaction has been favorable, Dickey said. Students are rated both on "progress in skills" and "development of attitudes and habits" in the Pearl Street School report.

The plan first was proposed at a teachers' summer workshop two years ago. The teachers have approved the plan and, if parents accept the idea, they will sit down and work out the details together.

'Leak'

"leaks," but he added: "Leaks are very difficult to control."

While Rooney was thus accusing the department of leaking prematurely information given the House group in confidence, newsmen were scratching their heads over a curtain of confusion apparently stemming from the fact that top department officials are in Berlin for the Big Four talks.

The prime example of this confusion has centered around McLeod and the question: Is he or is he not subject to the Hatch Act, which bars federal employes from political activity?

For three days in a row, acting department spokesman Jameson Parker has been issuing sometimes conflicting statements, in written form, and then declining further comment. When pressed, he will say he doesn't know the answer but will get it.

Friday replied, "not to my knowledge."

The court accepted a state exhibit today, the original police report listing murder, robbery and arson as committed the night of the woman's death and the office fire.

Prosecutor Theodore Lutz earlier had produced a monkey wrench describing it as the weapon used to kill Mrs. Sternbaum.

Roy Jones, a former employe of Sternbaum, said he found the wrench on a desk in the burned office building where the body of Mrs. Sternbaum was found. He said he found it while cleaning up after the fire.

The prosecution has suggested Sternbaum beat his wife to death because of an unhappy marriage.

Fostered Party 100 Years Ago

Ohioan Played Big Role In GOP Stand on Slavery

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Historians hold the issue of slavery put the breath of life into the Republican Party at Columbus 100 years ago

Not all of them agree on the birthplace Some claim Jackson, Mich ; Ripon, Wis., and other places. But here is an account of the birthday meeting from the Feb. 15, 1854, issue of the Ohio State Journal:

"A numerously attended public meeting of those citizens of Columbus, O , opposed to the 'Nebraska Bill now pending in the Senate of the United States', was held in the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, Feb 14, 1854."

Joseph Patterson Smith said in his "History of the Republican Party in Ohio":

"In the light of subsequent events this meeting was of the utmost importance, for it led directly to the organization of the Republican Party of the State of Ohio.

"Fewer than 100 citizens attended and it organized on the motion of Joseph Ridgway by electing Judge Joseph R. Swan chairman and William Blynn secretary."

"Anti-Nebraska" came to be the label of those opposed to repeal of the 1820 Missouri Compromise against slavery in the western territories.

Actually, Ohio Republicans did not adopt that name officially until a year after their Anti-Nebraska convention at Columbus.

But the Republican pioneers carried the state by some 80,000 votes in their first test of popularity. They won every congressional district with Anti - Nebraska candidates.

Their victories stood out because in 1852 Democratic President Franklin Pierce carried Ohio by 13,000 votes and Democrats won 12 house seats

After their 1854 foothold, Republicans swept Ohio in 1856 and 1860 on such issues as limitation of slavery, freedom of worship, temperance, free schools and free labor.

An Ohio State Journal editorial titled, "The Ball in Motion", had this to say of the Feb. 14 meeting:

"Among the proceedings at the public meeting last evening it will be seen, was a proposition for a state convention to set forth the fixed and unalterable sentiment of Ohio as to the extension of slavery over territory now free. Let the convention be held."

The first convention convened March 22 Newspaper accounts of attendance varied from 1,200 and 1,500 "earnest men" to 400 or 500.

David K Carter of Stark County said in one of the principal talks

"I am here to act with free men to prevent an untold evil The public mind has been shocked by the introduction in Congress of the bill to oganize Nebraska and Kansas . . .

"I have a plain, honest question to ask of those who defend this bill

"If it is not designed to introduce slavery into the territories, then why ask to repeal the clause forbidding slavery there?

"You can give any man a week to answer that question. It can't be done . . ."

"I have great veneration for old names and old parties, but when they do wrong we must not follow them. Let us unite together in a new party, if necessary, to secure a return to the primary principles of free government

"If we do not resist slavery, all will be lost"

Yale Juniors Seek New 'Collective' Prom Date

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale's junior class began looking today for another girl to come as the "collective date" to the junior prom Feb. 26.

The class had asked songstress Eartha Kitt but she wired from San Francisco today that she couldn't make it because of "general poor health."

Miss Kitt's announcement said her physician had ordered her to cancel all outside engagements and several of her appearances in the show "New Faces of 1952" She rejoined the show only this week after missing several performances.

Dad's Child Psychology Not Entirely Successful

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Thomas J Fehr, Salt Lake City, reports little success with his brand of child psychology.

When his 20-month-old son Russell threw his bowl of cereal on the floor, Fehr says he paddled him, filled another bowl and placed it before the infant. That went to the floor too, whereupon another paddling and another full bowl.

But Russell wasn't learning very fast. The third bowl, then the fourth too, went to the floor.

Fehr went out and bought a plastic bowl.

WATERTOWN, N Y. (AP) — The friendly mailman was completing his appointed rounds. But why, the postmaster wondered, was he so slow?

Bills Drafted in Congress Soften FHA Loan Terms

WASHINGTON (AP)— Legislation was drawn today to reduce the down payments and stretch out the repayment periods of Federal Housing Administration (FHA) home loans.

Identical bills by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) and Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) chairmen of the Senate and House banking committees, were described by the authors as the administration measures designed to carry out President Eisenhower's housing recommendations of Jan. 25.

Would Cut Payments

They would cut down payments by varying amounts—for example, by $350 on a $10,000 house—and would reduce monthly payments by extending to 30 years, instead of the present 20 or 25, the time in which a loan must be paid off. Also, down payments as low on used houses as on new ones would be authorized. There is now a differential.

The proposed legislation, slated for full committee study, avoids any direct mention of Eisenhower's request for a four-year public housing program designed to start 35,000 units annually. Wolcott said Congress in 1949 authorized a 135,000-unit annual program which is still on the books. Noting that the House Appropriations Committee refused to provide more than 20,000 units for the current fiscal year, ending June 30, he told newsmen a "simple amendment" wiping out this restriction would fall within the jurisdiction of that committee. An avowed foe of past public housing programs, he said he saw no reason to authorize in specific terms the President's request when an even larger authorization is already on the statute books.

Provides Leeway

The President would be given considerable leeway by the proposed legislation to change down payments, repayment periods and interest rates within a sharply defined range.

For example, the President would be empowered to set interest rates on a fluctuating scale depending on the average yield of long-term government bonds. Both FHA loans and those insured by the Veterans Administration could be set up to a maximum of 2½ per cent above the average market yield of these securities.

A new program providing 100 per cent government insurance for low-cost housing — up to a maximum $7,000—would be provided for families displaced by slum clearance or urban renewal or by any other "government action."

Study of Arctic Region Made for Government

WASHINGTON (UP) — Military interest in the ice-bound arctic wastes — shortest air route to American cities from countries behind the Iron Curtain has prompted an extensive bibliographical project by the Smithsonian Institution for the defense department.

The first three volumes, issued recently, list and summarize the contents of 20,000 publications on the Arctic regions of America, Siberia, and Europe found in libraries of the United States and Canada.

The bibliography describes material published in English, Russian, Scandinavian, and other languages. The entries are so indexed that a minimum of effort is required to locate lists and descriptions of the most important works on this area.

Approximately 35 per cent of the material is Russian, an indication of long-time Soviet interest in the Arctic.

Await Action on Taxes

Business Planners Watching Congress

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Until Congress takes final action on taxes a lot of business plans will likely be kept in mothballs. And some consumers may be waiting, too, to see if Congress is going to make a lot of goods cheaper to buy.

Tax stories out of Washington indicate a long wrangle on the floors of the two chambers over tax aid to industry may be building up to keep business on the anxious seat.

The bolstering which tax changes are supposed to offer manufacturing and retail trade, and thus brake the recession, could be delayed if Congress gets snarled in debates while the economy continues to slide.

Many businessmen, while hoping for the best, are taking a wait and see stand on part of their plans for expansion, dividends, possible mergers and foreign investments.

Some tax decisions must be made within seven weeks or automatic tax drops will go into effect on many consumer goods, and on corporate income tax rates. If Congress should later restore these taxes, in full or in part, confusion would be confounded.

Merchants complain that already some shoppers are holding off their buying, saying they will wait to see what's going to be done about excise taxes on autos, furs, and a long list of goods classed as luxuries.

Dealers will wait, too, in their ordering to see what Congress does about excise tax rates, many of which are now scheduled to drop April 1.

And manufacturers may hold up production targets until they know how high the taxes will remain, and therefore which direction sales may take.

Industry has many other indecisions while waiting for Congress to act on other tax changes.

Some companies are waiting to see if Congress will allow faster write-off for tax purposes of the cost of new plant and equipment. At the present slow rate of depreciation allowance, it may be better to lease machinery. At a faster write-off rate it might be advantageous to buy it instead.

The size of plant expansion programs could hinge on the same tax advantages. New or bigger programs may be announced if depreciation rules are liberalized.

Another thing business planners must know is what date Congress will finally decide to make the new rules effective. Business can't afford to invest heavily now, if the liberalization doesn't become effective, say, before the start of next year.

Chicago Policeman Cleared of Charge He Attacked Judge

CHICAGO (AP)—A Municipal Court jury last night acquitted a policeman who had been charged with assault upon Circuit Judge John T. Dempsey.

The policeman, George E Kuhter, 28, had been charged with assault and false imprisonment. Policeman Donald E. Cummings, 27, is awaiting trial on charges of accessory before the fact to assault and false imprisonment.

Dempsey claimed that the two policemen roughed him up in Humboldt Park Nov. 14 while he was walking his dog.

Kuhter testified that he had been looking for a man accused oy several youngsters of molesting children in the park. Dempsey was questioned because he resembled the description of the molester, the policeman testified.

Air Force Captain Hurt Critically in Accident

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP)—Capt. Charles O. Smyre, 32, was in critical condition at Camp Carson hospital early today from injuries suffered in a freak plane accident.

Smyre, a passenger in a T33 jet trainer piloted by Maj. Frank Dowell, was catapulted through the plane's canopy yesterday when the craft's automatic ejecting seat was fired accidentally. The accident occurred soon after the plane from Perrin Air Force Base in Texas landed here.

Bible Words to Live by

I JOHN 4:21—"And this commandment have we from him, That he who loveth God love his brother also."

* * *

To me this is one of the most beautiful and significant verses in the Scriptures because it is indicative of the fact that love is always a creative experience. It is never an isolated emotion. It always has consequences. If we love God, then something must happen in our lives and in the lives of those we touch. Love turns our hearts inside out. It channels our feelings into concrete deeds. It tolerares the weakness of those who live with us. It breaks habits which have gained mastery over us. It changes a house into a home. It lifts a relationship into a companionship. It deepens an offering into a sacrifice and a responsibility into a mission. Something always comes of love.

Harding Hits Fostoria Tonight; Irish Play Saturday

Prexies Go After Revenge For Defeat Early in Season

Harding is all set for its Buckeye Leauge battle with Fostoria here tonight.

The locals will be out to capture their first league victory of the season and seventh win of the year in 17 starts.

However, Harding's assignment will be a tough one. The visitors downed the Prexies 79-42 in the first meeting, handing the locals their worst defeat of the season.

Fostoria brings a 2-4 Buckeye League mark into the fray, good for fourth spot in the loop standings.

Current league standings find Fremont ahead with a perfect 7-0 mark, followed by Findlay, 5-2, and Bowling Green, 5-2, in the runner-up position. Following Fostoria are Tiffin Columbian, 1-6, and Harding, 0-7.

A Harding win tonight would still leave it in the league cellar position although it would boost the Prexies' season mark to 7-10.

Other League Action

In other Buckeye League action tonight, league-leading Fremont is at Findlay and Tiffin is at Bowling Green.

Probable starting lineup for the visiting Redmen will be Hubert Landers, 6-0, and Tony Nixon 6-2, at the forwards; Jim Arwood, 6-3, at center; and Pat Thornton, 5-10, and Carl Nye, 5-10, at the guards.

Arwood and Landers are the only veterans on the squad. Also available for service will be Red Berry, a 6-4 center, and Bob Goddard.

In the previous meeting at Fostoria, Arwood—Fostoria's big gun—dropped in 24 points while Landers added 13, Goddard totaled 10, Nye eight, Nixon seven, Berry six, Tucker five an Thornton four.

Harding will likely go with Bob Hamor, 5-11, and Max Kaelber, 6-0, at forwards; Dave Schnelker, 6-2, at center; and Ron Conroy, 5-8, and either Doug Bibler, 5-7, or Don Smith, also 5-7, at the guard posts.

Leading Scorers

Conroy is the leading Prexie scorer with 232 points. He is trailed by Hamor with 144, Smith with 141, Bibler with 120, Schnelker with 121 and Kaelber with an even 100.

Harding's lop-sided defeat to the Redmen in the first meeting was atributed to Fistoria's red hot shooting and Harding's cold marksmanship. The winners hit on over 40 per cent of their shots from the floor while Harding only managed to connect on slightly over 20 per cent of theirs.

The locals will be out to break a two-game losing streak following losses to Findlay 55-54 and Shelby 75-66 Tuesday night there. Fostoria fell before Bowling Green 51-39 in its last outing.

The visitors bring one of the Buckeye League's best defensive marks here. Fostoria, while scoring 375 points in leagut warfare, has given up but 354 points in seven loop outings. Only Findlay, which has given up 323 points, and Bowling Green, which has given up 344 points, have better defensive marks in league play.

Harding's figure in league play is 391 points scored against its opponents' 476.

A game between a group of all star players from Edison, Baker and Taft Junior High Schools here and substitutes of the Harding reserve club will get action underway tinight at 6 p.m.

Two Cincinnati Pacts Received, List Completed

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates have given up on Greenberg Gardens, their shortened left field barrier. But that doesn't worry Sid Gordon, who figures to carry much of the Bucs' batting load this season.

"There's no doubt that it'll cut out some of those cheap home runs," he said today, "but the guys who hit the long ball like myself shouldn't be affected much."

The left field fence at Forbes Field will be 365 feet from home plate this season as compared with 335, the measurement since 1947.

"Sure, I may lose two or three homers. But most of my long drives cleared the small fence and landed in real home run territory anyway," Gordon explained.

Gordon, who was traded to Pittsburgh last December for Danny O'Connell in a six-player deal, was strictly an outfielder with Milwaukee last season. But he hopes Manager Fred Haney will give him a chance to play third base.

The Cincinnati Redlegs became the first major league club to sign its entire 1954 roster by coming to terms with pitchers Frank Smith and Clyde King. General Manager Gabe Paul said this was the earliest the club ever had brought every player in line.

Others to sign were shortstop George Strickland pitcher Dave Hoskins of the Cleveland Indians, infielder Pete Suder of the Philadelphia Athletics, catcher Stan Lopata of the Philadelphia Phillies, infielder Jerry Coleman of the New York Yankees, outfielder George Shuba and catcher Rube Walker of Brooklyn, infielders Bob Hofman and Davey Williams of the New York Giants, outfielder Harry Elliott of the St. Louis Cardinals and rookie pitcher Paul Menking of the Chicago Cubs.

In other baseball news, Milwaukee southpaw Chet Nichols was mustered out of the Army and will report to the club in Bradenton, Fla., at the end of the month; the New York Giants revealed that infielder Daryl Spencer will be inducted into the Army at Wichita, Kan., Feb. 15; and veteran catcher Steve Lembo annnounced his retirement from organized baseball.

PLAN BOND ISSUE

WAVERLY, Ohio (AP)—The Pike County Hospital Assn. announced yesterday it would request a $500,000 hospital bond issue be placed on the ballot at the November election. Pike County is one of six Ohio counties without a general hospital. The atomic energy plant is located 21 miles from the nearest hospital at Portsmouth, the association said.

Williams Pledges First Homer for Legless Girl

BOSTON (AP) — Boston Red Sox baseball star Ted Williams has promised to hit his first 1954 home run for a pretty 20-year-old girl who lost both legs in a railroad accident last month.

Williams paid an unexpected visit yesterday to the home of Katherine Benedict at the request of her physician, Dr. Paul C. O'Brien—a friend of the Red Sox slugger.

Ted carried an armful of Valentine gifts and told the girl she'll be his guest at the team's home opener against Washington April 15 in Fenway Park.

Bowling

John Kayatin rolled 247-650 to show the way in the Fraternal League at Marion Recreation last night. Games of 167 and 236 were coupled with his high game for the high series. Moose No. 2 with 906-2494 copped team laurels.

Helen Culp fired 211 while Judy Phelps totaled 563 to set the pace in the Thursday Afternoon Ladies League at Palace Recreation. The former had a 531 series. Judy Phelps had games of 194 and 195 in her high series. Liz Hamburg hit 183. Team honors went to Kerrey's Jewelers with 791 and May's Jewelers with 2244.

A 221-585 by Scranton was tops in the Industrial League where eight games of 200 or better were posted. Monsanto fired 892-2492 to lead the teams.

Classic League keglers were paced by Bob Owens' 237 and W. Bennett's 596. A total of 35 games of 200 or better were recorded. Other high series were a 593 by T. Blair, a 590 by W. Tefft, a 594 by G. Mull and a 591 by L. Nelson. Buettins Sales with 1015 and Nevada Furniture with 2827 had the high team scores.

Kathryn Cafagno struck 207-500 to lead women bowlers in the Marion Engineer Depot League. Men were led by Robert Harty and Richard Dutt, who both hit 205 games, and Dale Morehart who totaled 594. Paul E. Collins rolled three consecutive 142 games. Team honors went to Hell Cats with 774 and Alley Kats with 2189.

SHORT SPORTS

By John Short

SHORT

Bob Hamor, Harding High School line star last season, pulled in what probably will be his last high school grid honor this week when he won an honorable mention berth on the annual prep school All-American team selected by the Wigwam Wisemen of America in Oklahoma.

The Prexy star was named as a tackle and guard in the list composed of high school performers from all parts of the country. He is the first Marion athlete to be selected since Tom McClain won a backfield post on the same squad.

Also winning a guard post was Upper Sandusky's Keith Quail, who cleared the way for Dave Kuenzli last season while the Rams' backfield star was pacing the state scorers.

Only Harding opponent to be listed was Lester Franks of Fremont Ross. Franks was the spearhead for the Ross attack last year and personally led to the downfall of Harding in his appearance here.

Ron Agnes, All Ohio guard from Massillon was named to a second string berth while Chuck Portis of Zanesville filled a tackle slot on the sixth team. Tom Krebs of Cleveland is an end on the seventh squad.

The honorable mention tab qualifies Hamor for play next August in the seventh annual All-Star High School football team. No site for the game has been announced. A selecting committee will screen the candidates carefully before the final selections are made.

CHANGE IN PLANS. Marion Barons officials have shifted the date for a Hockey Appreciation Night here from Feb. 24 to March 10.

The change was announced last night after a meeting at the Coliseum when it was discovered the original date, which will pit the Barons against Johnstown, would have conflicted with St. Mary High School's first tourney appearance at Westerville.

The March 10 date will feature the Troy Bruins in what will probably be a rough, penalty-marked game. Plans for the program were delayed pending another committee meeting later this month.

Green Camp Lodge Nipped by Shovel

Green Camp K of P Lodge fell before a last half Marion Power Shovel attack and dropped a 59-51 decision to the visitors at Green Camp school Thursday night.

The losers jumped ahead 17-10 in the opening quarter and increased the margin to 32-24 at halftime. Power Shovel overtook Green Camp in the third period and went on to the win.

Hensel and Bender were high point men for the winners with 18 points each. Gene Marsh shoved in 13 for the losers while Paul Sheppard and Al Stover each contributed 10.

Green Camp is host to the Wyandot Indians Monday night.

Judge Studies Akron Park's Racing Appeal

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Clande V. D. Emmons had under advisement today an appeal by the Ascot Park Jockey Club from a state racing commission order denying it track dates this year.

The jurist yesterday also agreed to consider a motion that the track be allowed to oprate this spring pending conclusion of the legal action.

Attorneys for the jockey club and state were asked to submit final briefs.

Judge Emmons said he would rule on the motion for temporary operation "within several days" after they are filed.

At its hearing in Columbus Jan. 26, the racing commission refused the club a racing permit after hearing testimony regarding alleged gambling activities of William J. Griffiths.

Griffiths is a part owner but not an oprator of the track.

The state yesterday sought to introduce new evidence concerning Griffiths' purported gambling affairs, but Judge Emmons ruled against the move.

He said if the state had exercised reasonable diligence, the evidence could have been in th record when the track's application was acted upon last month.

Ring Action Increasing For Cincinnati Fandom

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati, which hasn't had a professional boxing show in months, will have two in less than two weks.

The Cincinnati Boxing and Wrestling Commission yesterday gave final approval for a bout to be held Feb. 20 between Bud Smith of Cincinnati, the No. 1 challenger for the lightweight championship, and welterweight Joe Micelli of New York.

Then it approved a March 2 bout between Hein TenHoff, German heavyweight, and Ralph Schneider of Miami Beach, Fla.

St. Mary Seeks 5th Straight In Struggle Against Willis

St. Mary's Irish are preparing for the invasion of an under average Delaware Willis quintet at the Coliseum Saturday night.

The Irish will be seeking their 13th victory of the season and fifth straight.

Delaware's season record shows more losses than wins. Bexley Trimmed Delaware 54-45 last week and prior to that, Grandview had been a 69-63 victor.

The visitors hold wins over Upper Arlington 52-46, Bexley 50-34, Marysville 62-53, Worthington 62-52, and Columbus Aquinas 55-48.

Delaware has appeared in losses to Mt. Vernon 74-58, Urbana 61-48, Columbus West 51-41, and Grandview 60-41.

Probable starting lineup for the Panthers will have Andy Hull, 5-7, and Wayne Lockwood, 6-1, at the guards; Dick Shively, 6-2, or Tom Hearn, 6-4, at center; and Fred Terry, 5-10, and Dave Sheets, 6-0, at guards.

Terry has been the big gun for the leading scorer, averaging nearly 16 points a game.

Shively, a 200-pounder, has been playing regularly for the visitors but has been hampered all year with a knee injury suffered playing football and may be replaced by Hearn as starting center.

The Irish will likely go with their regular starting lineup. That will include Mike Anderson, Roger Micheli, Jack O'Keeffe, Butch Merchant and Jerry Ballenger.

Also breaking into the Irish lineup will be John Messenger, Larry Ryan and Don Shoemaker.

Anderson is currently leading Irish scorers with 243 points. Roger Micheli ha. 182 and Merchant 173 to challange the redheaded southpaw sharpshooter, leading scorer on last year's Irish combine.

Messenger has chipped in with 68 points while Ballenger and O'Keeffe each has 65 points and Ryan 45.

The locals will be out after their 10th victory in the last 11 games. After a 64-47 loss to a powerful Delphos St. Johns outfit which snapped a five-game winning streak, the Irish have come back to notch four victories.

In downing Johnsville 68-61 Tuesday night, the Irish came within four points of their highest offensive mark of the season. Anderson and Micheli paced the Irish attack in the tilt with 16 points apiece. Previous high scorers had been 72 points against Richwood and Cardington on successive nights.

Baker Near Share Of Junior Crown

Baker Junior High School moved a step nearer a share of the title in the Marion Junior High School League Wednesday night with a 34-28 win over Taft Junior High School.

The Taft squad fashioned a 10-7 lead in the opening quarter but dropped behind 19-17 in the second stanza. Baker held a 27-24 cushion at the start of the fourth.

Saunders dropped in 11 points to lead the winners' attack while Middleton and Smith each collected 7. Pacing the Taft scorers were Wilsom, Green and Remmy all with 7. In a reserve game, Taft took a 13-11 decision. Ambrose scored six for the winners and Penry five for the losers.

Baker now owns two wins and a single loss in league action while Baker in winless. Edison's squad tops the standings ith a 3-1 mark but Taft and Baker will meet again Feb. 19 at the Harding High School gymnasium.

Francis, Frank Selvy Eyed For Action in NIT Tourney

By RIP WATSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Invitation Tournament, competing with the National Collegiate Basketball Championships for the best college teams, has lost two battles but it may win the war yet by capturing the nation's highest scorers.

NIT hopes of landing Kentucky, the nation's top-ranked team and one of the two undefeated teams, were smashed last night when Athletic Director Bernie Shively said Kentucky would not ask the Southeastern Conference to waive its rule against NIT competition.

At about the same time as Shively's announcement, New York University won a 75-63 victory over Manhattan, the committee's last hope as an outstanding local attraction. Manhattan's record is now 11-3 while NYU is 7-7 and St. John's of Brooklyn only 7-8 even after nipping Richmond 62-59 last night.

Lacking a strong local team as an attraction, the NIT could solve its problems with Furman's Frank Selvy and Bevo Francis of Rio Grande, who between them will hold just about every collegiate scoring record by tournament time next month.

Selvy last night scored 51 points in Furman's 114-87 romp over Georgia Tech, running his 2½-year career total to 2,097.

Francis didn't play last night, but his 48.9 points per game average dominates the small college field just as Selvy's 37.6 mark towers over the major colleges.

Little Rio Grande has no technicalities barring it from the NIT but Furman would be bound to play in the National Collegiate Championships if it wins the Southern Conference tournament March 4-6. If the Southerners lose out, they'd have to get conference permission to accept an NIT bid. It's known the NIT has a bid all ready.

The NIT gained its third team yesterday when Dayton, with a 19-5 record in tough competition, accepted a bid. Duquesne, ranked just behind Kentucky as the nation's only other undefeated team, and Western Kentucky came in to the fold previously.

In other games on last night's extremely light schedule, Wake Forest walloped North Carolina in the Atlantic Coast Conference 76-62; Maryland's Gene Shue brought his own school season scoring record to 452 by making 36 points in the Terrapins' 76-43 rout of Washington & Lee; and St. Bonaventure's whipped Siena 97-64.

Angelo, Lewis, Orth Take Mat Events

Gino Angelo, Jim Lewis and Paul Orth were winners in last night's wrestling matches at the Marion Armory.

Paul Orth and Ricky Waldo battled to a draw in the second match.

Angelo won his match from Bowery Boy Jack after the latter was disqualified by Referee Rip Hawk for roughing. It came after 15 minutes of action.

No contest was called in the third match between Bowery Boy Hurley and Scotty Williams. Hurley was first disqualified for using a knee drop and Williams was later disqualified for resuming the match and the wrestling commission called it no contest.

Orth became the winner of the $100 purse in the battle royal when he was the last wrestler remaining in the ring. First to leave were Bowery Boy Jack, Bowery Boy Hurley and Ricky Waldo.

With Williams, Orth and Gino left in the ring, Gino and Wiliams teamed up against Orth, with Orth getting Gino out and then beating Williams.

Lewis downed Aztec Garcia in the final match when Garcia was disqualified. Both grapplers had battled for 30 minutes when they rolled into the ropes, Lewis going on the outside and Garcia applying his hangmans hold on Lewis. The referee couldn't break the hold and counted Garcia out.

Garrett To Discuss Brownie Contract

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Stanford's Bobby Garrett, the nation's leading collegiate passer, leaves today for Miami for contract talks with Paul Brown, coach of the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Garrett was the Brown's bonus choice in the NFL draft.

Garrett said he had received offers from two Canadian teams, which he declined to name, but "I would much rather play down here and hope that Paul Brown and I can reach an agreement."

The Stanford star said he had no idea what Cleveland would offer but "I have definite ideas of my own."

Detroit Student, 16, Gets 3-Year Term

DETROIT (AP)—A 16-year-old high school student must spend the next three years in a training school as a result of the icepick stabbing of the high school basketball player Jan. 15.

The boy must stay in the institution "for training and re-education until he is 19," Probate Judge George Edwards ruled yesterday.

Ross Debosokey, 17, the stabbing victim, was attacked by the 16-year-old and several companions following a night basketball game. Deboskey is recovering.

Three older boys, convicted after trial, are awaiting sentence for assault and battery.

Hoskins, Strickland Sign

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pitcher Dave Hoskins, who won 9 and lost 3 last season, and shortstop George Strickland, who boosted his batting average 84 points, will get more money this year from the Cleveland Indians.

General Manager Hank Greenberg, announcing yesterday they had signed 1954 contracts, said they got "substantial" pay boosts and deserved them.

Francis Shows Way in Hiking College Scores

NEW YORK (AP) — Remember when "point-a-minute" meant a highscoring basketball team? This season a lot of small colleges could average that much using only two players and leaving the other three on the bench.

Statistics released today by the NCA Service Bureau show 60 players averaging 20 points or more in games through Feb. 6.

Bevo Francis, of course, tops the list with a whopping 48.9 in 19 games. Back of the Rio Grande flash are Vince Leta of Lycoming with 31.5 and Clarence Burks of St. Augustine's with 30. Bill Warden of North Central with 29.7 and Ralph Bacote of St. Paul's Poly with 29.5 are very much in the battle for the runner-up spot.

The individual scoring has taken a terrific jump over a year ago when only 29 players were at the 20-plus mark this late in the campaign and only three were averaging as many as 27. Nine are the 27-and-over pace this winter.

Rio Grande Take Totals $11,500 For Three-Game Spurt in Ohio

By FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bits of this and that from around and about:

For a school which never finished in the black financially for any athletic season up to last year when big "Bevo" Francis' scoring magic made the turnstiles click, Rio Grande is doing pretty good at the gate.

For one six-day period in late January the Redmen of Coach Newt Oliver received $11,500 for three games. The Rio Grande "take" was $3,500 for the Findlay game at Dayton Jan. 21, $4,600 for the Jan. 23 game with Creighton at Troy, and $3,400 for the Jan. 26 contest with Morris Harvey at Cincinnati.

Ohio, down through the years, has had some great and gaudy cage teams, but the fabulous ones with the eye-catching appeal have come from deep in the hill country. Back in the mid-thirties it was Waterloo, with its famed high school wonders. Now Rio Grande.

Any high school kids who want to play a lot of college baseball might take a second look at the University of Arizona. The Wildcats have a 48-game schedule this season, starting March 1 and running through May 12.

Denison University's first annual high school indoor relays is set for April 3. The first field will be limited to 12 schools. Columbus South, Central, East and West; Upper Arlington, Worthington, Marion Harding and Newark are early entrants.

Mark (Buzzy) Davis of Marietta College's state and Ohio Conference pace-setters, has 370 points for 15 games, 5 more than he scored in 18 a year ago. He's leading the loop with a 24.7 average.

Ohio Wesleyan's grid team hits the highways next fall, with six of its nine games on the road. The defending Ohio Conference champs play Akron, Wabash and Oberlin at home, but travel to Rochester, Denison, Mount Union, Heidelberg, Wittenberg and University of the South (Sewanee).

Only 13 players in the National League drove in 100 or more runs last season, and three of 'em—Ted Kluszewski, Gus Bell and Jim Greengrass—were Cincinnati Redlegs. The Redlegs also led the loop in double plays with 176, and had the campaign's only triple play.

Dayton's Flyers, leading the state with 19 victories in 4 starts, should be a whale of a team again next season. Only one senior, Don (Mickey) Donoher of Toledo, is on the starting quintet.

Giambra Favored Against Scortichini

NEW YORK (AP)—Joey Giambra isn't taking Italo Scortichini lightly even if he is a 3-1 favorite to win the telecast Madison Square Garden 10-rounder tonight.

The handsome, 22-year-old Buffalo, N. Y., middleweight contender thought he was in for an easy evening when he went down to Miami to box Bobby Dykes a month ago. What happened still has Co-manager Tex Sullivan pulling hair from his thinning crop.

Dykes outpointed Giambra and snapped Joey's 11-fight, 16-month winning streak. The loss dropped the former shoeshine boy from fifth to eighth in the rankings and cost him a lucrative shot with Joey Giardello, the current No. 2 contender.

Scortichini claims that he has just become accustomed to the American way of fighting after a year of campaigning here. The 24-year-old Italian, an aggressive fighter, made his best showing when he fought Basilio, No. 1 welterweight contender, to a draw in Miami Jan. 16.

Lin Houston Quits Grid Play for Second Time

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lindell Houston officially retired again today as right guard for the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

He did the same thing last winter, but presumably this time the retirement will stick. The Brown's office said Houston had advised them he would devote full time to his job with a steel company.

Brown, who discovered Houston's talents at Washington High School in Massillon in 1937, said the guard had been "outstanding as a player and as a man," and "a mainstay in our football."

Houston also was on Brown's national championship team at Ohio State in 1942.

The Mason-Dixon line stretching along the southern Pennsylvania-northern Maryland border was established to settle disputes over private land grants and not as a dividing line between North and South.

Rhodes Continues Attack on Lausche

CINCINNATI (AP) — State Auditor James A. Rhodes, unopposed for the Republican nomination for governor, declared here last night that Cincinnati, long a Republican stronghold, has been discriminated against by the Lausche administration.

Rhodes, who will oppose Gov. Frank J. Lausche in the November election, spoke at a Lincoln Day dinner of the Hamilton County Republican Club.

"Cincinnati has become more or less a stepchild in the affairs of the State of Ohio," Rhodes said. "It has been discriminated against. The present administration has has turned its needs aside in favor of less deserving but more politically lucrative areas."

Kent State Eligible List Being Studied By Mid-American

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A meeting of the Faculty Council of the Mid-American conference here today may shake up the league's basketball standings.

The faculty representatives will discuss the case of Kent State University. Last week Commissioner David Reese of Dayton ruled Kent State must forfeit all conference games played since Christmas because two of its players competed in high school alumni games.

The council must decide whether school alumni games were included in the intent of the conference code forbidding member players from appearing "on an amateur team which is not connected with the college."

Western Reserve initiated the case by protesting a Kent State victory Jan. 13. Reese also forfeited a Feb. 8 Kent State victory over Marshall.

Jap Press Reports U.S. Airlifting Aid to French

TOKYO (AP)—American Air Force units in Japan are flying support airlifts for French troops in Indochina, the Nippon Times said tonight

Still on a small scale the flights are being made to help the French keep flying their American C119 "flying boxcars" and to maintain the 200 American air technicians already there

Far East Air Force headquarters had only this comment on the story which appeared in Tokyo's largest English-language newspaper

Food Stamp Plan Would Give Surplus to Needy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two members of Congress urged today the government's multi-billion dollar stocks of farm surpluses be cut down by grants to U S needy persons and barter abroad

Rep Sullivan (D Mo) drew up for introduction a bill for a food stamp plan to channel up to one billion dollars worth of the surplus to persons she said were left out of existing relief programs

Sen. Case (R-SD) said he is confident millions of dollars worth of the products in storage could be used as barter to replace some of the cash outlay for overseas military bases

NYC Stock Up $2 in Wave of Heavy Buying

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy buying of New York Central stock sent the price soaring $2 a share to $25 on the New York Stock Exchange as opponents gathered forces for control of the huge railroad system

Nearly 100 000 shares of common stock traded in the first hour Yesterday the stock gained $1 37

It was not known whether the rush to buy Central stock was caused by opponents seeking to enlarge their holdings or by traders who figured the battle for control would send the price even higher Such transactions normally are kept confidential by brokers.

Robert R Young, who has demanded to be made chairman of the board of the nation's second largest rail line, prepared to close up his winter home at Palm Beach and move to New York "for the duration of the fight He claimed support of 90 per cent of the stockholders

In Chicago William White, president of the Central, whose board rejected Young's demand this week, said 'We aren't punching bags or pushovers and the fight will be with no gloves" He said he expects to win any proxy fight that might develop for control of the road.

White's statements to reporters in Chicago were his strongest yet Said he

The New York Central will hire professional proxy solicitors to win stockholders support for the present management "Mr Young he said, "asked for a fight and we're going to give it to him"

By checking back over the Christmas cards he received from politicians the political reporter gets a pretty good line on who's going to run this year

Match Dropped In Spilled Fuel Oil Sets Blaze

A match accidentally dropped in some spilled fuel oil was listed as the probable cause of a fire which did some $300 damage to the Frank D. Bentz residence at 260 Kensington Pl Thursday

Central station firemen answered the alarm at 11 37 a m and reported the blaze evidently started in a pool of fuel oil spilled on the ground beside the house Siding on the house caught fire and the blaze spread through the wall into the living room. The oil was spilled on the ground in the course of filling a storage tank for the furnace, firemen were told

City firemen also answered two other alarms Thursday. At 10 45 p m central station firemen were called to the residence of Mrs Pauline Campbell at 221 Bain Ave when the house became filled with smoke They reported some electric wiring to the furnace short circuited and burned, causing an estimated $25 loss

A spark from a salamander type of camp stove set fire to some lumber in use by the Knowlton Construction Co at the Robert A Taft Junior High School addition on N State St at 6 32 p m Mark St station firemen answered the alarm and reported only slight loss to the lumber.

By printing dramatic color photographs, a news magazine feels it is giving us all a better idea of what Mr Eisenhower looks like In contrast perhaps to those old-fashioned, black - and - white presidents like Abe Lincoln

Police in Akron Reopen Probe After 25 Years

Boy's Disappearance Remains Mystery; New Lead Investigated

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A man who walked into police headquarters with a statement set police off today on another attempt to solve the disappearance 25 years ago of 9-year-old Melvin Horst.

Detective Capt. John F. Struzenski would say only that the man's story jibed enough to warrant further investigation But after lie detector tests a woman named by the man was released along with her former husband.

The man yesterday told police he had learned a woman with whom he makes his home ran over the youngster and that the body was picked up and later disposed of

Questioned by detectives, the woman denied the story but said she remembered her former husband knew something about the disappearance.

Her mother declared the former husband had once pointed out a field near Orrville and said the youngster was buried there When police got around to the former husband, he asserted the stories he had "never been to Orrville exhe had "never been to Orville except once and I am not sure even of that one time"

This much is in the records: Dec 27, 1928 Mrs. Raymond Horst, who is now 53, noticed her son playing with a new toy dump truck near their house in Orrville (Wayne County). The next time she looked, he was gone.

No trace of the boy or his body has ever been found although a father and son were convicted, then acquitted of kidnaping the child, and one man signed a confession which proved a hoax

Since 1948, Mr. and Mrs. Horst have lived at Eustis, Fla., where Horst, now 54, runs a sheet metal and roofing firm.

Schools at Kenton Seek Extra Levy

KENTON — Citizens of the Kenton School district will vote on an additional tax levy for school operations next Nov. 2, school officials announced today.

The Kenton schools, which are operating on a levy of 3 5 mills, must vote in the increase in order to reach a 10 mill minimum required by law to qualify for funds under the State School Foundation program.

Members of the Kenton Board of Education are now studying how much will be needed to operate the schools for the next few years, Paul Oaklief, superintendent of schools, said.

Consumption of vodka in France increased about 50 per cent in 1953.

Marion Area Scout Leaders Attend Dinner

Charleston Executive, Father of Local Man, Talks to Group of 175

About 175 Marion area Scouters and their wives attended a fellowship dinner in the Epworth Methodist Church last night to climax local observances of National Boy Scout Week.

Guest speaker for the covered-dish dinner was M L (Johnny) Johnson, scout executive of the Buckskin Council in Charleston, W. Va , a nationally prominent scout leader He is the father of Dean Johnson, Marion field scout executive

Johnson reminisced about the life of a boy and his father and gave his thoughts on what scouting means to a boy. When a boy is of cub age, "in blue and gold", Johnson said, he thinks his Mom and Dad are the most wonderful people in the world But at scout age he turns to his buddies, fellow scouts, and Mom and Dad drift into the background somewhat Finally, the speaker pointed out, he turns to Dupuis,

Awards Presented

Highlight of the dinner was the presentation of round-up awards by Karl Bechtle, council commissioner. The round-up was a membership drive held last fall in which units were "mortgaged" for a certain number of additional members. Top awards were given to Pack 29, sponsored by the George Washington PTA; Troop 27, sponsored by the Mt. Gilead Lions Club, and Ship 59 of the Marion Navy Club All three units showed over 100 per cent membership increase

Branding iron awards for paying off the "mortgage" before Dec. 10 were given to troops 7, 14, 36, 37, 57, 62, and 20, packs 2, 12, 23, 29, 36, 27 and 119, and explorer unit 59.

Frying pan awards for paying off their mortgage by Dec 31, the end of the round-up, were presented to troops 2, 24, 13, 41, 27 and 47, packs 7, 14, 17 24 and 30.

Recognition Ceremony

In a recognition ceremony Howard Ziegler, vice-chairman of the Marion district, presented each male volunteer with a scouter universal lapel pin and each woman with a red rose.

Presiding over the program was Sam Babich, Marion district commissioner Dinner committee chairman was Eugene White. Rev. Walter Eyster, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church, gave the invocation, White led the assembled in group singing, Ed Neidig and Jim Teitelbaum conducted a get-acquainted game, and Robert Gerhardt presented the closing ceremony called the "light of scouting" District officers and members of the executive board were introduced, also.

The banquet committee consisted of Mrs. R. T. Gray, Mrs. James Greetham, Mrs. Howard Zeigler, Mrs. Harold Carroll, Mrs. Eugene White, Mrs. Myron Halley, Mrs. C. G Wheeldon and Mrs. Dean Johnson.

Trees Already Tall

Street Laid Out in 1916 To Get Its First Houses

A section of Uhler Ave. first laid out in 1916 and planted to trees will get its first houses this year.

It is the section of Uhler between Mt. Vernon and Ohio Aves. which has often attracted the attention of Marionites because of the twin rows of tall trees which mark the two sides of the street.

They were planted shortly after the section was platted in 1916 by Frank A. Huber.

ARRANGEMENTS have been made by A. J. Buday, building contractor, to put up 17 houses on the street, which he will also pave.

When laid out, the street was designated as a part of the Mt. Vernon Ave. addition to the city of Marion. The addition is bounded on the north by Indiana Ave., on the east by Reed Ave., on the south by Mt. Vernon Ave. and on the west by Grand Ave.

It was shortly after the plat was recorded that the trees were planted in anticipation of a building boom which did not actually develop until now, some 38 years later.

BUDAY RECENTLY purchased all but five of the original 32 lots on this portion of the street and has obtained authorization from City Council to make necessary improvements.

Under supervision of the city engineer's office, these improvements will include paving of the street, construction of curbs and gutters and sidewalks, and installation of all necessary storm water and sanitary sewers.

First construction will get under way early in the spring just south of Ohio Ave. and will proceed south toward Mt. Vernon Ave. as each house is constructed and sold, Buday said.

Plans call for enlarging the frontage of each of the 50 - foot lots to 75 feet, thus decreasing the number of lots to 17, Buday said.

EACH OF THE houses planned for the development will be in the $15,000 to $17,000 class and will be three-bedroom ranch-type homes with full basements.

There will be three different floor plans and the front elevation will be different to set each house off from its neighbor. Of modern design they will have automatic hot-water heat using radiant baseboards. Furnaces will be gas fired. All floors will be hardwood. Kitchens will also be fully equipped, Buday said. He has made arrangements for FHA, GI or conventional financing, he said. total of some two years to complete depending how fast each house is sold, Buday reported.

Bucyrus Gas Company Issues Service Permit

BUCYRUS — Written permission has been issued by the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to James and Cleo Rank of Bucyrus to heat their home with gas, according to an entry made here this week in Crawford County Common Pleas Court by Judge John C. Carroll.

The Ranks had filed a petition against the gas company after the latter had threatened to shut off gas service to their home. The plaintiffs claimed they were dependent on gas for heating and asked that an injunction be issued to prevent the company from shutting off service to their home.

Industry Booms on Labor-Saving Gadgets

Economic Importance of Being Lazy

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Talking with assorted business men, I've decided the laziness of women is one of the chief assets of American industry.

In fact, the top brains of science and finance are constantly at work to make us even lazier.

We are encouraged to buy automatic washing machines, electric dishwashers, electronic devices for watching the baby, cooking the roast or opening the garage doors. Labor-saving devices are among the most important products of our industrial age.

We are pampered by food companies which do all our cooking for us. We can buy anything from chicken pot pie to French hors d'oeuvres in frozen food packages, ready to heat and serve.

All we need to become a champion cake baker is a package of one of the popular cake mixes. Biscuits and hot rolls, that grandma used to labor hours to make are ours in a package.

The modern trend toward less drudgery and more fun is a constant delight to the top brass of

My most recent conversation on the economic importance of being U.S. industry, lazy was with a big, genial Irishman named Dan Mahony, a merchandising executive for Lily-Tulip Cup Corp. Naturally he thinks it's a crime to have to wash dishes and believes everybody should use paper cups, plates and containers. He says:

"We don't even have to work very hard to convince people that it's more fun to live informally. No woman ever really enjoyed washing dishes — that's for sure. And today's trend toward back yard dining, barbecues, patio parties and TV snacks is right up our alley.

"The day of stiff, formal living is gone, thank goodness. Your grandmother probably insisted on a full service of china and glassware at every meal. But today's housewives are smarter. They give the gang hamburgers in the back yard on paper plates and burn the dishes afterward in the barbecue grill."

The trend of the times is toward making practically everything disposable—and we've already gone a long way toward that goal.

Crime Prevention Week Proclamation Issued by Robinson

Marionites were called to observe National Crime Prevention Week Feb. 14 through 20 in a proclamation issued today by Mayor Harold F. Robinson.

Initiated by the National Exchange Club, observance of the week is sponsored locally by the Exchange Club of Marion, with the cooperation of law enforcement agencies, churches, schools and other civic groups.

"The greatest crime is the tolerance of crime and citizens must be aroused to the dangers of the rising crime wave in order to combat the problem effectively," Robinson said in his proclamation.

He urged all citizens of Marion to do their utmost to interest themselves on this program and to support all agencies and efforts to put down crime and the breeding of crime in the community.

Toledo Boy, 6, Trapped 18 Hours in Icebox, Safe

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—A 6-year-old boy, trapped for 18 hours in a heavy, abandoned icebox, was freed yesterday—hungry and cold but otherwise none the worse for his experience.

James Edward Brice told police he crawled into the icebox and closed the door just before dark Wednesday. Cracks and ill-fitting doors allowing air to enter.

He was discovered yesterday when a neighbor woman heard his cries.

U.S. Carrier Crew Raises $25,000 for Crippled Children

TOKY (AP) — Traditional Navy discipline was thrown out for 43 days aboard the carrier Yorktown.

Chief petty officers served breakfast in bed to sailors. One chief shined shoes. And a ship's officer played hide and seek with the crew. All for a price.

The $25,000 booty will be turned over to Shriners' crippled children's hospitals when the 3,000-man crew and their fighting ship return to the United States.

Awards Given Scouts At Bucyrus Observance

BUCYRUS — Three Bucyrus youths received the Star Scout rank at a court of honor held at the Elks' Lodge Tuesday night in observance of National Boy Scout Week.

Recognition also was paid at the banquet to Ed Koch, a merchant, who has been a scoutmaster here for 18 years and has worked with approximately 600 boys during that time.

Receiving the Star Scout badge were: Scoutmaster Koch's son, Sammy; Billy Flock, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Flock; and John Ehrhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ehrhart.

Presentation was made by Dr. George A. Johnson, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

10-Year-Old Runaway's Plans Well-Organized

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A 10-year-old runaway, who financed his well-planned trip by selling gum drops at the YMCA, got as far as the bus station last night.

Detectives found Charles Edward Ryan sitting in the station equipped with a BB gun for "protection," a Boy Scout water canteen and a sack of apples and bananas.

In addition he carried two road maps, 80 cents in change and a comic book.

Detectives treated the boy to a bottle of pop and took him home.

Inter-American Group Opposes Coffee Boycott

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Inter-American Economic and Social Council voted 15-1 yesterday to give the "widest dissemination" to a resolution condemning any coffee boycott campaign in the United States.

The one dissenting vote was cast by the United States.

The council, part of the organization of American states, includes the Latin-American coffee-producing nations.

Truckers File Tax Protest in Federal Court

CINCINNATI (AP) — Attorneys for 31 truckers in Ohio Michigan Illinois and Indiana will have until next Thursday to file depositions in their suit attacking constitutionality of Ohio's truck axle tax law

A three judge federal court heard arguments in the case here yesterday

The truckers are asking that enforcement of the law be halted pending outcome of the suit to test legality of the statute The law provides for a tax of ½ to 2½ cents a mile on trucks having three or more axles The deadline for the first payment of the tax was Jan 20

Joseph B Keenan of Washington, chief counsel for the truckers claimed the tax was excessive and that because of that it would interfere with the free flow of interstate commerce

He pointed out that several states have canceled reciprocal agreements with Ohio as a result of the tax

Joseph Gill, assistant state attorney-general argued the federal court had no jurisdiction in the case He contended the truckers should take their case to the Ohio Board of Tax Appeals and then on to the State Supreme Court if necessary

The arguments were heard by Judge Florence A Allen of the U S Court of Appeals and U S District Judge John H Druffel of Cincinnati and Lester B Cecil of Dayton.

BUCYRUS — A reckless driving case scheduled to be heard here before Mayor Frank P Sitler, has been transfered to Crawford County Common Pleas Court here because the defendant alleges that the mayor is 'biased, prejudiced and unqualified" to hear the case

Defendant in the action is Kent A Buchanan of Bucyrus, a former Cleveland attorney He was arrested early last Saturday morning by police and charged with reckless driving

Judge John C Carroll said he will decline to hear the case because of 'relationships and friendships' involved Court officials indicated that it may be necessary for the Ohio Supreme Court to send a judge here to hear the case unless some settlement is reached

Ohio's Probers Issue Warning In Final Report

Indicate Hard Core Of Moscow-Directed Reds Remains Active

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Un-American Activities Commission has bowed out with a warning that a hard core of Moscow-directed Communists threatens the state.

The commission went out of existence last month when it was replaced by a branch of the state attorney general's office It turned over its records and work to Atty. Gen C William O'Neill.

In its final report, the commission said Ohio Reds are underground now but their number has shrunk only 3 to 5 per cent since the 1952 count of 1,300. More than half were in Cleveland. The rest were scattered mainly in industrial centers throughout Ohio.

The FBI says there are about 10 fellow-travelers for every hard-core Communist.

The commission said the only way to reduce the "hard core" in Ohio is by direct prosecutions under the new Ohio subversive activities control act.

The commission set up shop last April and since that time questioned 30 witnesses in Cleveland, Akron, Canton and Columbus.

Witnesses who took refuge in the constitutional amendment protecting them from self-incrimination were cited for contempt by the commission Their cases are pending in Summit, Stark and Cuyahoga counties.

The branch of the attorney-general's office dealing with subversives is headed by Cincinnati Lawyer Sidney Isaacs. It will report results of investigations to county prosecutors and aid their cases against subversives

Rep Samuel L. Devine (R-Franklin), chairman of the old commission, said the commission will mail about 6,000 copies of its final report to legislators, judges, enforcement officials, newspapers, radio and television stations.

Dr. Neil W. Price, president of the Marion Community Concert Association, has called a meeting of all ticket holders immediately following the concert Tuesday night. At this time plans will be discussed for the future of the association and a question and answer period will be held The meeting is scheduled to last only half an hour.

$200,000 Fire Destroys Mill At Circleville

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Residents of this city of 8,000 today poked curiously about a pile of rubble and ashes—all that remains of a large mill and a fire that threatened to destroy Circleville's business district.

Destroyed was the Maizo Mill, an old converted grain elevator in which corn cobs were ground into a lens and metal polishing compound It was just across the railroad tracks from the W. Main street business center.

Spontaneous combustion is believed to have started a fire in the boiler room section and it looked for a while as though it would spread to other buildings

Flames shot hundreds of feet in the air and were visible for a radius of 15 miles Sparks showered the city. Burned electric wires cut power in several parts of Circleville.

Sparks from the blaze set more than a dozen smaller fires, including one at the county jail. Two box cars at a nearby siding went up in smoke and the Norfolk & Western Railroad, taking no chances, held up its trains for about an hour along the tracks adjacent to the big wooden building.

The fire was subdued by Circleville and neighboring fire departments about five hours after it began but Mayor Robert Hedges ordered his police force to remain on duty all night to make sure sparks didn't cause any more fires

G. Dana Harrington, president of the Harrington Co., Columbus jewelers who owned the building estimated damage at about $200,000.

Ex-Railroader Jailed For Bilking 4 Attorneys

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — A former railroader, who the FBI said had a trick for talking lawyers out of money, was in jail today.

Norman H McCabe, agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said George A. Young, 41, was arrested here yesterday and accused of obtaining about $25 apiece from four Bradford, Pa. attorneys

As explained by the FBI agent, Young phoned the attorneys and convinced them he had a good personal injury case and in fact had been offered a settlement.

The catch was, McCabe said, he needed train fare to get to Bradford to talk over the case He got the money but never showed up

McCabe said Young had received $15,000 in a railroad accident case in 1945.

Abraham Lincoln

The republic which Abraham Lincoln saved would have survived without him, in all probability, but it would not have been the same thing he helped it to be.

Ever since his death, thoughtful people have been sorting out and evaluating his contributions to American life. It has been a rewarding task, though it might be wished more of us had taken the time to share the reward.

If there had been only Lincoln's sense of humor to set him apart from the ordinary run of public figures, that alone would be worth splitting up 160,000,000 ways. Lincoln's very sadness was the result of his appreciation of the ludicrous. He loved and pitied his fellow men because he could see them whole, as he so saw himself—imperfect tools for the performance of great deeds.

Among the endless guesses about what Lincoln would say if commenting on current events, one guess is never made. It is probable the great man would look with quizzical compassion upon current events, then tell some homespun story to let the bombast and pomposity leak out of most of them and many of the puffed-up people strutting and storming in our midst.

It takes someone of large enough stature to belong to the ages to be able to spot the gadflies and pygmies of politics. If Lincoln had done nothing else, he still would be memorable for his ability to be one of the people who couldn't be fooled any of the time.

Tariff a Local Issue

If every one of the 435 members of the U. S. House of Representatives were to do what D. Bailey Merrill of Indiana's eighth district has done, the Congressional Library in Washington would be the busiest place in the country.

Rep. Merrill was elected in 1952. One of the first issues to hit him in the eye was tariff. Protectionists and advocates of reciprocity started to twist his arm. He felt the need for more information.

So he asked the Library of Congress to round up the facts for him about foreign trade in his district not in the nation but in his own bailiwick. In this he was shrewd because congressmen learned as long ago as William McKinley's time that the tariff is a local issue in politics and national issue in economics.

The results of Rep. Merrill's factual approach to the tariff are described in considerable detail in the new Harper's, which also reports that a study was made in Pennsylvania's eighteenth district under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce.

In both cases, the inescapable conclusion was that economic facts would cool off the prejudices arising from ignorance which have made the tariff issue local; i.e., an issue on which a congressman must vote to save his political neck from the anger of constituents who lack information about their own economic circumstances.

Battling Nelson Was Best

In the annals of sports, a few claims are uncontested.

Oscar (Battling) Nelson, who has died at the age of 71, was claimed by his friends to be the greatest fighting machine for his weight in his generation. At 133 he fought the best lightweights in the business and acknowledged no matter in the first decade of this century.

He lost, as even the best ones must lose if they stay around too long. But he fought 250 times, and no other fighter of his era was held in such high esteem for his skill, durability and courage.

No one knows what causes a Battling Nelson to dominate other men with equal and sometimes superior bodies. Some of the answer is coordination, some courage, some determination. Fighting is a sport where the right combination of all the desirable qualities never can be spotted until a candidate has faced the big test. In Nelson's day, the test was a 40-round fight for the championship.

Battling Nelson lost all the money he made. He died as he had lived for the last few years of his life, penniless. Fighting was his only skill. But in the annals of his sport, he is candidate for the greatest of the lightweights.

Keyserling's Word for It

When it is recalled that Leon H. Keyserling was a storm center as chairman of President Truman's Board of Economic Advisers and bears the scars of political attack, his opinion that Democrats are trying to whoop up economic jitters is doubly powerful.

The Republicans, he pointed out in Canton Sunday night, are trying to make things appear bright and the Democrats would like them to appear dark. But the economic fact of the matter is, as far as Keyserling is concerned, that things are bright.

The opinion of a man who has no reason to love Republicans comes close to clinching the decision on a matter of this kind. If there were any economic justification for hurting the Republicans, it's a good bet Leon Keyserling would be aware of it and would feel free to use it.

Pincers Maneuver

Eisenhower Caught in Political Warfare Trap

Dwight Eisenhower as a military man knows that a good offense is as necessary in war as a good defense, but he doesn't seem to have grasped the importance of the same rule as applied to political warfare.

Unfortunately, the President again allowed himself at his press conference to be entrapped by Trumanite reporters into pulling the rug from beneath his own party's spokesmen.

He did it once before on Attorney General Brownell when the Harry Dexter White case was first publicized, and he now deals a body blow to his own national chairman, Leonard Hall.

For several days the Democratic strategists have been trying to undercut or nullify the effect of the forthcoming Lincoln Day speeches by the Republicans.

Entirely oblivious to the bitter and irresponsible attacks made by high officials of the Roosevelt-Truman administrations against the Republican party as a whole for many years, the cry now has gone up that the Eisenhower administration is countenancing some sort of violation of the rules of political etiquette.

EISENHOWER, whose knowledge of the insidious tactics of politics is limited but who certainly might have been briefed on the subject in advance of his press conference, left the impression with many reporters that he disavows what Chairman Hall of the Republican National Committee, his own chief of staff Sherman Adams, and Governor Dewey have been saying in their political speeches.

When news of what the President had said at his press conference reached Capitol Hill, there was rejoicing among the various Democrats at the way a wedge had been driven between Eisenhower and the Republicans now out on speaking tours.

The rules of political combat are to hit hard at the opposition's past errors. If Eisenhower is naive enough to believe that he can conduct the presidency on a kid-glove basis of aloofness toward the preceding administration, he will be weakening the morale of his own party in the congressional elections this autumn.

There are, of course, extremes in political campaigning. Basically the American people believe in holding a political party responsible for what its officials did when they were in office, and they are always glad to get the facts about the mistakes that have been made.

Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1932 to 1944 never let an opportunity go by to take a crack at the Republican party as a party of "depression." He assailed all businessmen as "economic royalists."

ON NATION-WIDE trips paid for by the American people — which he facetiously called "non-political" journeys—he denounced the entire Republican party as a faithless institution.

In every campaign, and between campaigns, the country was reminded by the Democrats of the acts of the Herbert Hoover administration with a scathing line of attack.

No Republican members of Congress did the "cry baby" act then. It would have done them no good, anyway, for Harry Truman "poured it on" when he delivered his "give - 'em - hell" speeches, which were so often acclaimed by the very Democrats who are now shouting "unfair."

In the election of November 1952, the people "liked Ike," but primarily they voted against the party of Harry Truman. They voted against corruption and Communism in government as well as bungling in military preparedness before Korea and bad judgment after the Korean war began.

NATURALLY, there are Democrats who want the Republicans to keep silent and say no more about the Harry Dexter Whites and the Alger Hisses and the Klaus Fuchses and forget all those "red herring" statements by which Truman sought to minimize the cost to the American people of treason.

If Eisenhower now orders the Republican party to be gagged on such issues, he will be flying in the face of a fundamental principle that parties at all times should be held accountable for their mistakes until and unless they show they have repented.

The "mess" in Washington was one of the things the people heard a great deal about in the last campaign. Now that the Republicans are able to see what's in the files and what's missing and have discovered how records were destroyed and personnel files were tampered with, certainly there are Democrats who want to see these things suppressed and covered up.

Will Eisenhower agree to such a cover-up? It would be a big victory for the Democratic strategists if he did.

THE ARGUMENT is made that the votes of the Democrats are needed in Congress to support the President's program. If Eisenhower, however, has to buy their support by suppressing the facts about the corruption and malfeasance of the Roosevelt - Truman administrations and the laxity about Communists in government, the country will lose respect for him as a political leader and his opponents in Congress will be found exacting every day a higher and higher price for their cooperation.

Eisenhower's legislative proposals will stand or fall on their merits. If they are in the public interest, the Democrats will have to vote for them anyway or be defeated at the pools.

They cannot seem to be vindictive or perhaps in some cases more concerned about keeping the Harry Dexter Whites and the Alger Hisses out of campaign attacks than about the important legislation wanted by Americans, irrespective of party.

Since Lincoln's Day

By TRUMAN TWILL

Abe Lincoln would have had a hard time making the grade in public life today. The president-makers would not have touched him with a 10-foot pole if they could help it.

He would have photographed badly for television purposes. Even with makeup and that shock of unruly hair combed down, he still would have looked like somone made up for a character part in a play.

His voice would have given fits to experts who know what grates on listeners' nerves, without knowing anything about what grates on the patriots' minds. It was too high, too squeaky, too raspy, too hickish.

The material he used would have had to be spruced up before it would have been admissible on any program paid for by the fat cats of the party organization. They would have hired a stable of Harvard men to ghost-write his speeches for him in the remote event they had given him a chance to run under their auspices at all.

He would have had to ditch that crummy shawl he wore about his shoulders. They'd have made him give up that funny-looking hat.

He would have been hauled off to the surgeon for removal of that ridiculous mole. They'd have been forced to do something about those silly glasses he put on for close-up reading.

A posture expert would have been called in to get rid of that tall-man stoop. A haberdasher would have gone to work on the necktie he wore askew under his ear.

Something would have had to be done about the bagginess in his pants and the drape of his coat. They'd never have let him grow a beard.

A committee would have waited on him to see if something could be done about those inane wisecracks which gave southerners a chance to sneer at the "ape" who had become the symbol of the union.

Advisers would have clustered about him to make it clear to Father Abraham that it might have been all right to act quaint and whimsical in Illinois but he was in polite society of big shots now — fellows who took themselves seriously and perfumed their whiskers.

The ladies would have closed in on poor Mrs. Lincoln even more aggressively than they actually did, lest that imposter from the hinterlands do irreparable damage to their high society.

Abe would have had a press secretary to pour oil on the troubled waters and calm down rootin'-tootin' critics in favor of riding him back to Illinois on a rail.

There would have been a negotiated peace with the southern from the sticks, Ulysses S. Grant, would have been kept out of sight.

Photographic retouchers would have improved on that homely face God gave the greatest homegrown American, and the Secret Service would have seen to it, you may be sure, that Lincoln lived long enough for the sadists of the Reconstruction Era to debase his idealism with their rutherless rape of a defeated enemy.

If Honest Abe had demurred and proved hard to handle — as he most certainly would have tried to do — someone would have dug up a shady passage in his past and rammed it down his throat over a national hookup.

We've come a long way since Lincoln's day. It's hard to be sure in what direction.

Daily Bible Thought

Israel, like all other peoples, passed through deep and troubled waters. Always she came out at long last. Those without faith and courage never came out! History is strewn with the wreckage of forgotten civilizations. Israel still lives! Fear thou not for I am with thee; be not dismayed; for I am thy God.—Is. 41:10.

Target Practice

Kansas City has been called the most surveyed town in America. This living under a microscope must give Kansas Citians the eerie feeling that if they look up all they could see would be an enormous eye.

Case Argument for Bricker Amendment

By Raymond Moley

The more recent debate on a treaty amendment in the Senate has concentrated attention on what is known as the "Pink Case." In fact, it was an examination of that case that inspired Sen. George to offer his substitute for the original Bricker draft.

The case originated in a most remarkable agreement which President Roosevelt made with Commissar Litvinov in 1933.

It seems that in 1908, a Russian insurance company entered the State of New York for the purpose of conducting business.

IN CONFORMITY with the law, it deposited money with the state superintendent of insurance to protect its pocilyholders.

When the Bolshevik government took over, it nationalized insurance and issued decrees confiscating all property of Russian insurance companies, wherever located.

In 1933, Maxim Litvinov, commissar for Foreign Affairs, came to the United States to negotiate recognition. A part of the general deal which was made at the time with President Roosevelt was the "honoring" of certain indebtedness by the Soviet to Americans who had property in Russia.

In the attendant conferences Litvinov pointed out that his government had a so-called claim to the money held by the New York State superintendent of insurance and offered to turn it over to help satisfy American claims.

HE THEN WROTE a letter to President Roosevelt assigning the money to the United States government. Roosevelt replied with a letter accepting the assignment according to its terms.

When the federal government demanded the money, the New York superintendent of insurance refused to turn it over. Thereupon the federal government began a suit to take it, which finally reached adjudication by the Supreme Court in 1942.

The case is called United States vs. Pink, Louis H. Pink being the superintendent of insurance.

The defendents in the case claimed, among other things, that to take the money would be a violation of the Fifth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which states that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law.

THE SPREME COURT by a vote of 5-2 held that Roosevelt's assignment, being a part of the foreign policy of the United States within the province of the president, should be given effect notwithstanding the Fifth Amendment and the laws of New York.

In a supporting opinion, Justice Frankfurter offered this gem of doctrine:

"In our dealings with the outside world the United States speaks with one voice and acts as one, unembarrassed by the complications as to domestic issues which are inherent in the distribution of political power between the national government and the individual states."

Even Philip Jessup, later to become Dean Acheson's ambassador at large, protested against such an invation of the rights and laws of the states as well as of the people of the nation under the Fifth Amendment.

Bison Making Comeback

By Jerry Klein

A recent book on the extinction of the American buffalo, or bison, reports that "the last buffalo" in the State of Kansas was killed in 1879. This last remaining specimen was killed west of Dodge City and its skull placed on melancholy exhibit at the Beeson Museum in that city.

But today the buffalo is pounding up the comeback trail. Naturalists say that, unmolested by hunters and watched over by protective herdsmen, the buffalo are steadily increasing.

Several thousand of the longhairs are being protected at three wildlife refuges in Kansas, as well as on several ranches and half a dozen open ranges. There, the animals are thriving once again on the old native grasses, especially the short and wiry buffalo grass.

When the great wild herds vanished in the 1870's, the buffalo was classified as virtually extinct. The Indians had depended on the beast, eating its flesh and making clothing and shelter from its furry hide.

When the white man came, he found buffalo roaming free across the entire country from Atlantic to Pacific — even parts of New York and Pennsylvania, the Carolinas and the region that is now the nation's capital.

But the white man with his rifle proved a much more deadly enemy to the buffalo than the red man with his bow and arrow. Besides, while Indians killed the beasts for food and clothing, white men killed them to decorate their parlors, or just for "sport."

In the old days, it was possible to ride into a huge herd of the beasts and shoot one in whatever direction you fired.

Kansas buffalo were especially powerful beasts, weighing as much as 3,000 pounds. But by 1870 the fields were white with their bones and the few remaining specimens had been herded into the southwest corner of the state.

By that time, too, the only other buffalo left in the United States were scattered remnants in Texas and Montana. During the decade following the Civil War no fewer than 20,000,000 buffalo hides were sent to market.

So rare were the animals by the turn of the century that a New York collector paid $1,500 for a buffalo head. It was about this time that the Wichita Game Preserve was established — the first such refuge to be created by private interests and presented to the government.

Today other survivors of the once limitless herds may be seen around Wichita, Maxwell, and in Western Kansas, at Meade and Garden City.

The game protector at Garden City arranges for a pilot to fly visitors over the 3,600-acre buffalo reservation.

Sometimes excess male bison have to be culled out of the herds. These animals wind up in butcher shops and restaurants as "buffalo-burgers." Commercial airliners occasionally serve some of this meat, with the travelers eating their buffalo while flying thousands of feet above the plains over which Bison Americacus once reigned supreme.

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

A road built in the eastern part of the county in the 1830's and intended as a turnpike was really only a narrow ridge of soil thrown up and instead of being a "turnpike" was a "mud pike" as the people soon came to term it. It ran through Waldo, Richland, Claridon and Scott Townships by way of Letimberville, now Kirkpatrick. The lands were known as "Turnpike Lands" and were sold by the company to contractors who built the road by sections. In 1843 the citizens along the road petitioned the Legislature to annul the charter which was repealed Feb. 28, 1843, but not until an investigation disclosed that a gigantic fraud had been perpetrated and the indignant citizens had demolished the tollgates.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Something 'Extra Speshul'

It was Saturday and Tom Lincoln had told the granny-woman, Aunt Peggy, that she had better be watching Nancy. "What's it goin' to be, a boy or girl?" asked Aunt Peggy. "I hope it's a boy," said Tom, "and a strong one, the way things are today in this country." Sunday, February 12, Aunt Peggy was on hand and the baby was born. Nancy, exhausted on the cornhusks in the bed cleated to the corners of the wilderness cabin, asked, "What time is it, Tom? I hear thunder and see lightning flashes . . .It's daylight but the skies are full of stars."

"Take it easy," said Tom. "You've had it rough. It's midwinter and broad daylight. There's no lightning or stars."

"Everything seems so different and so strange-like. You say it's daylight, Tom? What day is it?"

Sunday, February 12th. . .just another day," said Tom Lincoln, who would never know how wrong he was.

II

"A boy and so purty!" exclaimed Nancy as her head cleared.

"He ain't much to look at," grinned Tom. "But he's a rugged feller. He'd better be if he's to get anywhere."

"Stop teasin'" said Nancy. "He'll do all right."

"He's all wrinkled up and solemn as a papoose, just like he had all the troubles of America facin' him," said Tom. "Whatcha goin' to call him?"

"Abraham," said Nancy.

"You know what that means. . .he'll be nuthin' but just plain 'Abe' to everybody wherever he goes, all through life."

"Abe!. . . wherever he goes!. . .Just plain Abe Lincoln to everybody everywhere!" sighed Nancy dreamily. "That'll be all right."

III

Tom Lincoln walked back down the red-clay road with Aunt Peggy. A neighbor, Tom Sparro hailed him and asked if everything was well at the cabin. "Yep. Nancy's had a boy," said Tom Lincoln.

"A boy, eh?" said Tom Sparrow. "That's fine, but he's got his job cut out a-doin' into th' world in these hard times away out here at the end of nowheres."

"He looks rugged," said Tom Lincoln.

"I hope the good Lord sees to it that he makes a fine man and goes far," said Sparrow.

"I dunno about goin' far," said Tom Lincoln. "There ain't much chance o' that."

"I'll bet Nancy is ravin' over him," said the neighbor.

"Yep," said Tom Lincoln, "Nancy thinks he's something extra special, you know how mothers are!"

With so many young men trying to get the hang of military life, we like the famous story of Abe Lincoln in command of a company and coming smack up against a stone wall in a field. He couldn't think what the proper command was, so he just said, "Company fall out here and fall in on the other side of the fence!"

In these days of windy politicians, how wonderful seems Lincoln's first stump speech. Running for the state legislature, he said, "I presume you all know who I am. I'm humble Abraham Lincoln. I have been solicited by friends to become a candidate. My politics are short and sweet like the old woman's dance. I'm in favor of a national bank, the international improvements system and a high protective tariff. These are my sentiments. If elected I'll be thankful; if not it will be all the same."

Lincoln's Way

By George Sokolsky

SOKOLSKY

It has taken many generations for North and South to forget the War Between the States, and even in this struggle over the fundamental principle of the rights of sovereign states to secede from the Union, it is realized more and more that had Abraham Lincoln lived, the atrocities of Reconstruction would not have taken place.

The ideal upon which Lincoln risked a nation was that Americans remained Americans whatever their differences; he could not and would not have treated the South as a conquered people.

Lincoln recognized nationalism as a righteous ideal. He lived in an era when nationalism was moving men to noble sacrifice. Lincoln was born in 1809, five years before the Congress of Vienna, which altered the political face of Europe and let loose nationalistic forces which are still in ferment on all continents except the North American.

EVENTS SUCH as the Belgian Revolution in 1830, which separated that country from the Netherlands, are forgotten today but they must have made a great impression on the young Lincoln, backwoodsman though he was. We know that he was a reader and although in his day there was no radio and no quick telegraphic reports, the news did get through.

Lincoln must have known of the great reform bills in England between 1830 and 1846 which saved that country from revolution. He must have known of the abolition of slavery in the British Colonies, and of the Chartist Movement, and of such personalities as Richard Cobden and John Bright.

All of the world of Lincoln's boyhood and youth was excited over Greece's war for independence, which was a dramatic outburst of a Christian nation in the Ottoman Empire. It will be recalled that the poet, Byron, threw himself into the fray, which really started in Rumania, in the provinces of Wallachia and Moldavia and was strongly supported by the Russian czars.

I refer to these incidents only because in the United States during this period sympathy was nationwide for all nationalistic movements.

IT IS THEREFORE not surprising that in the great Lincoln-Douglas Debates, which made Lincoln a national figure, he should have declared the strongly nationalistic statement: "A house divided against itself cannot stand."

Further he said, "I do not expect the Union to be dissolved; I do not expect the house to fall; but I do expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing, or all the other."

This statement inevitably produced the War Between the States because when Lincoln was elected to the presidency by the newly founded Republican party, the issue was drawn as between nationalism and localism, just as it is drawn in our times between nationalism and internationalism by the Bricker Amendment, which has brought to a head a division that has been in the making since 1937 when Franklin D. Roosevelt delivered his Quarantine Speech, which gave to our foreign policy a decisive internationalist twist.

IT IS TOO often assumed that Lincoln based his program on the immorality of Negro slavery. Actually in his first inaugural address he said:

"I have no purpose directly or indirectly to interfere with the institution of slavery in the States where it exists."

But on the subject of secession, in the same address, he reiterated his nationalistic doctrine:

"No State, upon its own mere action, can lawfully get out of the Union."

It is impossible to guess what might have happened in history had events taken a different turn or had the wrong personality led the nation at a given moment.

What would have happened to Christianity in Europe had there been no Charles Martel, no Charlemagne, no John Sobieski, no Narail-splitter in New Salem, Illinois, but we shall never know.

WE DO KNOW, because the figures are so close to us and the events are still part of our lives, that had Abraham Lincoln, the gangling, homely backwoodsman who lifted himself from a dreamy rail-splitter in New Salem, Illinois, to become a fine lawyer, a profound intellect and a moral force —had such a man not appeared in the 1860's, this nation might have been divided like the Balkans into many conflicting states

Lincoln recognized that nationalism means strength, but that it must be supported by traditional morality. Thus, he grows in stature as the nation he saved grows in stature.

Too Sugary

By Victor Riesel

Only a short time ago, the Soviets were running a blackmail mill, kidnapping our business men and holding some of them for ransom in China for as much as $800,000. Like tin horn mobsters, they failed to release our commercial representatives even after our corporations and banks sent over the ransom money.

RIESEL

Yet today the Soviets' blithe spirits who doublecrossed our businessmen are wooing them through a series of fronts which, amazingly enough, simply liberated through the Korean war and once again are peddling "Soviet-American friendship."

Latest maneuver in this 'Operation-Come-Love-Us-Again" is a series of telegrams dispatched last week by Soviet-fronters to Midwest manufacturers who turn out that nice machinery the Russians and Chinese need so badly to revamp their military organizations, depleted and run down during the Korean unpleasantness.

ONE OF THESE wires was received by a Warren, Ohio, industrialist who once did business with the Soviet Union in the year before the doublecross. Its wording is revealed here in the hope that publication will provoke public repudiation of Malenkov's cooing technique.

"Numerous sources report Soviets eager to purchase large quantites of non-strategic goods in America including some products manufactured by your firm. We are making survey of attitudes of Midwestern manufacturers to doing business if export licenses are obtainable. May we have an expression from you. Return wire collect."

The gentleman who is so eager to survey sentiment and accept return telegraph charges is one Mandel Terman, chairman of—guess what? The Chicago Council of American-Soviet Friendship, 64 West Randolph Street. Stout fellow.

Why wasn't Terman around trying to sound out sentiment of American businessmen when the Soviets in China were holding American commercial representatives for ransom?

AT THAT TIME, in at least 12 cases, the Treasury Department authorized American concerns whose representatives were detained inside China to pay "claims" made against their firms by the Red Chinese. This, apparently, did little good.

On April 17, 1952, Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder reported that "The payment of the claims did not bring about the release of a number of the representatives (of U.S. business) in China. Accordingly, the two Departments (treasury and State) are now convinced that it is impossible to issue licenses on any basis other than that of arrangements insuring the safe arrival of the representatives in a non-Communist area before payment is made to mainland China."

On March 25, 1952, Sen. William Knowland revealed that some $800,000 had been paid to the Sovietized Chinese, but only four U.S. businessmen had been released.

Sen. Knowland characterized this as "extortion and blackmail."

At that time 32 Americans were in Communist China's jails, 33 were under house arrest and there were possibly 300 more who had not been granted exit visas, the senator disclosed. Presumably some of these businessmen are still in China.

OUR INDUSTRIALISTS, especially those in the group which once accepted orders from the Soviets, are now being asked to resume dealing with this very same Communist force which not only directed the war against us but blackmailed our businessmen into ransom. The payments were made, but their representative remained in Soviet controlled jails.

The current sugary campaign to woo Midwest industry has been launched to coincide with a propaganda drive by the pro-Russian labor unions.

The technique is to stir up uneasy fears of heavy layoffs in the machine and electrical equipment fields and then urge both labor and business to pick up the slack by selling "non-strategic" material to Russia and China.

ONCE THESE drives are coordinated, the pro-Soviet fronts in the Midwest will attempt to create "labor-management" committe for Soviet trade "to lessen tension in international relations." Then will come the jointly run mass meetings and an attempt to revive the old war-time fraternity.

As always, the Sovieteers have a second objective if their most arrogant one fails.

They will shout "at least" for trade if they can't get recognition of Red China.

So it is certain that those who answer queries of the Chicago Council for Soviet - American Friendship will fall into a calculated propaganda trap.

The 32,000 GIs who died on Korea's frozen hills, the thousands more who were maimed, the mothers' sons of all races now dying in the jungles of Southern Asia — these should not so easily be forgotten.

Home Life and TV

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK

Many people complain about what television has done to American home life.

But what can television do for home life? Can it, for example, give every American home what it deserves most — the better housewife?

HAL BOYLE

Yes, can television take an ordinary scrubby bride and mold her into the kind of wife she yearns to be—a charming, informed, all-around woman worthy of traveling down life's rocky road shoulder to shoulder with that fine fellow, the average American husband?

Well, television is going to try. It is already a guest in your living room. Soon it will be a guest who tells your wife how to make that living room look less crumby, and how she herself can also look less cru . . I mean, . look more attractive.

THIS VIDEO adventure in wife education will be launched March 1 via an NBC-TV daily one-hour network program called "Home." The idea is reported to be personal brainchild of NBC President Sylvester L. Weaver himself, and he has authorized erection of a $200,000 set for "Home."

The mere announcement of this program upset a friend of mine, who said he had two objections: "First, I have spent 20 earnest years trying to improve my wife, and the only result is that she is older. How can television do a better job on her in an hour a day? The program should be at least eight hours long, seven days a week, if it is to teach wives even half the things they really need to know.

"SECOND, every wife who watches that $200,000 set is going to feel sooner or later her husband ought to buy her a $200,000 house. Will that simple girlish goal help make your home life more peaceful?"

Beauteous Arlene Francis will act as editor-in-chief of the program. Assisted by a staff of experts, she will give illustrated hints to the American housewife on how to raise children or petunias, how to take spots off the family dog or her husband's necktie, how to cook better meals, both with and without a can opener. And, naturally, how, to be more charming.

Even a crime program today has to teach a housewife how to hold a gat in a charming manner if it wants to get a real rating.

Personally, we wish Miss Francis luck in TV's greatest challenge so far—the building of perfect wives, of which every man could use at least one.

AND FOR A STARTER, we'd like to see her tackle and solve a few typical old household problems, such as:

The wife who insists on getting something out of the medicine chest while her husband is shaving, and uses his razor to cut paper . . The wife who won't roll the toothpaste tube from the bottom . . . The wife who can't make up her mind on colors while hubby is mixing the paint . . .

The two-bathroom family in the one-bathroom house . . . The neighbor who punishes her children if they are destructive in her own home but not if they turn your house into a city dump . . . The wife who leaves her bobby pins all around the wash basin and yowls when hubby splashes water and gets them rusty . . .

The wife who . . . (fill out your own list, boys, and mail them to Miss Francis. She'll help you.)

Of course, some husbands create household problems, too. But even television hasn't figured a way yet to improve the American husband.
